SINN FEINERS IN DARING COUP

Railing Party Invades Royal Air Force Headquarters Near Dublin

Carry Off Secret Military Documents, Including Army Code and Cipher

LONDON, Sept. 2.—A Sinn Fein raiding party invaded the Royal Air Force headquarters at Baldoy, near Dublin, Saturday night, and carried off a large number of secret military documents, including the army code and cipher used at the present time, according to the Daily Mail. It is declared the coup was the most daring and important that has been attempted in Ireland since the present unrest in that country began.

Among the papers stolen, it is said, were orders relating to the joint operation of the army, navy, air force and the Royal Irish constabulary; the scheme of Irish defense plans, the details for lighting aerodromes for night flying, and proposals for new developments of the Royal Air Force in Ireland.

SPECIMEN BALLOTS

Received at Office of Election Commissioners Today

Specimen copies of the ballots to be used at the state primaries in Lowell next Tuesday arrived at the office of the election commissioners at city hall this morning with a complete list of democratic and republican candidates to be presented to the voters in the various wards of the city.

From the appearance of the specimen ballots, there will evidently be no

PRECINCT OFFICERS WANT MORE PAY

The precinct officers chosen by the board of election commissioners a few weeks ago to serve at the various primaries, are asking to be held in Lowell this year for a wage of $10 a day for their services.

The request was made at city hall last evening when the precinct officers assembled to receive instructions from the election commissioners relative to the state primaries to be held here next Tuesday. John L. Boughton, one of the officers, was the spokesman for the petitioners. At the present time the precinct officers are getting $3 a day and clerk $2. There are 224 officers in all, eight for each precinct. They cited as arguments for an increase the fact that other cities had given the matter consideration and also that many of the officers are able to earn more in their own occupations per day than they now get for serving as precinct officers.

The election commissioners voted to take the matter under consideration and will discuss it at a special meeting to be held Friday afternoon.

THE PASSING OF DOBBIN—AUTOS REPLACE HORSES IN STREET RAILWAY SERVICE

"Bob" and "Charlie," a pair of trusty horses, have received their honorable discharges as employees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company. For many months they have been hitched side by side to haul the repair trolleys about the city, but now they have been replaced by a brand new two ton auto truck. Both horses were auctioned off at Hanson's stable this morning and tomorrow they will start out on new duties with their experiences through wind and storm while working for the railway company slowly fading into history.

BANKING NOTES

The Old Lowell National Bank established in 1823 is the oldest bank in Lowell.

It has had the confidence of the community for nearly 100 years.

Not even the heavy depression caused by wars and financial panics have disturbed the serenity of the way of the Old Lowell National Bank.

When the Government wanted to place its loans, the Old Lowell National Bank always took its share and lent valuable aid in placing United States Bonds with the public.

URGES LLOYD GEORGE TO RELEASE MACSWINEY

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—A cablegram to Premier Lloyd George requesting him to order the release of Lord Mayor MacSwiney was sent today by Parley P. Christensen, farmer-labor party candidate for president. It read: "You have appalled the thinking people of the world by your callous indifference to the death throes of the heroic lord mayor of Cork. His admirable bravery and fortitude should convince you of the pitiful impotence of military might when marshalled against the spirit of liberty and justice."

"I urge you in the name of countless American free men to remove the mask of pretended legality and spare the life of this proven patriot. The slayers of Joan of Arc had excuses such as yours, and so, too, did the executioners of Robert Emmet and the hangmen of Nathan Hale. If the Lloyd George government is not a tyrant prove it by freeing Terence MacSwiney and withdrawing your murderous army from the soil of the Irish republic."

COMPLETE INQUIRY INTO NAVAL ANTI-VICE SQUAD

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—The naval board of inquiry which has been investigating since last January charges that a naval anti-vice squad which operated at Newport, R. I., during the war, was guilty of vicious practices, has finished its work and reached a finding.

The report, however, will not be forwarded to Secretary Daniels for about six weeks, as it is estimated it will take that time to complete and index the 4000 pages and 400 exhibits which will be included. Rear Admiral Herbert O. Dunn, commandant of the Boston navy yard, was president of the court.

BELIEVE LAPOINTE TOOK PARIS GREEN

In an examination of the element at 231 Dutton street where the dead bodies of Adelard Lapointe and Mrs. Ezelka Gelinas were found last Sunday afternoon, made this morning by Medical Examiner T. B. Smith and Sgt. Philip Dwyer, a half-filled box of paris green was found in the room where Lapointe's body was discovered. Further inspection of that room revealed traces of paris green mixture spilled upon the bedclothes and upon the floor. Connecting this discovery with the finding of a glass of green liquid beside Lapointe's body, the police are practically certain it was a case of murder and suicide.

LAST CALL FOR POLL TAX DELINQUENTS

Any Lowell man who has not yet paid his $5 poll tax for 1920 and who has not had his taxes abated by the board of assessors is asked to visit the assessors' office at city hall as soon as possible so that the matter may be straightened out.

Veterans of the world war and Spanish-American war are asked to bring their discharge papers when presenting their claims for exemption from the payment of the tax. A return will have to be made in the near future to the state authorities of the number of polls assessed in Lowell and all that remain uncollected will have to be paid for by the city.

RECORD FOR NEW OIL WELLS

OIL CITY, Pa., Sept. 2.—A new record for the number of oil wells completed in the United States, was established during August, when the total reached 3513, according to the monthly review of The Derrick, made public here today.

G. O. P. Nominee Puts His Political Creed Into Vernacular of Baseball

Addresses Cubs on "Home Grounds"—Too Many 300 Hitters to Depend on One

Attacks the Attempt to Pull Squeeze Play at Paris—Had Ball Waiting at Plate

MARION, Ohio, Sept. 2.—Putting his political creed into the vernacular of baseball, Senator Harding delivered a front porch speech today to the players of the Chicago National league club, appealing for better team work by the American nation "on the home grounds," under the rules.

Many issues, including the League of Nations, one man government and preparedness were touched on by Senator Harding in declaring his love for the great American game. The Cub players had come to Marion to play a special exhibition game late in the day as a personal compliment to the nominee.

In another speech delivered to a committee representing several associations of teachers, the senator said the low compensation of teachers had brought on "a crisis" in education, and pledged himself to do everything in his power to secure better pay for the professions. Both of the addresses were short, and the "greater part" of the day the candidate reserved for a conference with Senator Knox of Pennsylvania on the league issue.

Saluting the baseball players simply as "Cubs" Senator Harding plunged directly into his discourse on political issues as analogous to the problems of the diamond.

"I pay you," he said, "my tribute to baseball, because I like the game just like every other real American. It has been in the blood for over a half-century and it has helped us as a people. Of course there has been a vast improvement since the early game, but I am sure it is not reactionary to remind you that you still try to hit them out and the big thing is to reach the home plate. There are progressive ideas, but it rejoices the average crowd of rooters to note an old-fashioned Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance."

"I like the tension of a tight game. It is great to be a rooter; it is fine to see him recognizing a great play, but I like his partisanship. That is the explanation of baseball popularity. We are all partisans of some team. I am sure I rejoiced as much as Garry Herriman when the Reds copped last year. I feel the same way in big national matters. I like to think of America first. I want our country to float the championship pennant in the contest for human achievement."

"You can't win a ball game with a one man team. I like a pitcher who puts the ball over and trusts his fellows to play their stations. Maybe it is old fashioned but I am for team play. I am opposing the one man play for the nation. Too much fanning out, too much unpreparedness. National unpreparedness for war cost us many precious lives, and endless billions in waste, and unpreparedness for peace is costing billions more and holding us in anxiety and uncertainty."

"It is my observation that the national team, now playing for the United States, played loosely and muffed disappointingly in our domestic affairs, and then struck out at Paris. No one can dispute the American team played badly when it got on a foreign field."

"As a spokesman for the republican party, I am urging team play in government on the home grounds with all the home fans behind us, and the team play when we represent America in the all-the-world series. There are too many men batting above three hundred to rely on one hitter. And I am advocating something more—according to the rules."

The rules in the supreme American game are in the federal constitution and the umpire is the American people. There was a meeting of league officials where the contending team tried a squeeze play, and expected to score—six to our against the United States. But the American senate was ready with the ball at the plate and we are still flying our pennant which we won at home and hold respected throughout the world."

Promises Effort to Save Mayor of Cork in Response to Appeal From Walsh

Chairman of American Commission on Irish Independence Makes Plea

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Another appeal for official intervention to save the life of Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney of Cork was made yesterday by Frank P. Walsh. He acted in his capacity as chairman of the American commission on Irish independence. Representations were made both to the president and Secretary Colby.

Mr. Walsh called on Secretary Colby and urged him to intervene either officially or personally with Premier Lloyd George. After the conference, Mr. Walsh quoted Mr. Colby as saying he recognized the difficulty of doing anything, "but nevertheless would endeavor to do something—and do it quickly."

Mr. Walsh briefly argued before Secretary Colby for American intervention in MacSwiney's behalf, citing as precedents the representations made by this government during the Roosevelt administration to the Imperial Russian government against the Jewish pogroms.

Mr. Walsh's letter to the president, continued to Page 2

THE HOUSING PROBLEM

Practically No Vacant Buildings Here—Build Own Home Only Solution

If you want a place to live in Lowell, the surest way, and in nine cases out of ten, the speediest way of getting it is to go out and build it.

That, in a measure, sums up the status of the local housing problem at the present time. A few real estate men are able to offer a variety of residential buildings for sale; others admit that residential property is as scarce as it was last spring and summer. In either case, the general report is that there are practically no vacant buildings in Lowell.

Vigilantibus, non dormientibus, servitex

Our advertising for several days past has been devoted to a few of the sweeping losses that have been incurred by Lowell Savings Bank depositors in years past, but to only a few. We have specialized, but by no means have we exhausted the subject. There have been many, many more and some have been legitimate and at least honest ventures. But we make this broad statement: When the temptation has taken form of an appeal to the class known as Savings Bank Depositors, loss has inevitably followed. We say this without qualification. The investments of real soundness and merit never went nor will for purchasers and never by personal appeal approach the class known as the "Working People." And "There's a Reason."

We have our modest effort made save someone from loss in the hereafter. Be assured that the Get Rich Quick Bug still lives, and will continue to multiply, and Human Nature will not change. All Highway-men do not carry Game. All Roadsters do not confine their activities to Banks. All the Thieves are not in Jail.

DEFEAT FOR BOLSHEVIKI

Routed Along Entire Center of Front—Flee in Disorder Before Poles

Thousands of Prisoners Captured—Russians Led Into Trap and Attacked

Germans Reject Russian Proposal to Join in War Against Western Powers

WARSAW, Sept. 2.—(By Associated Press)—The Bolshevik army of General Budenny, cavalry leader, has been annihilated in the Lemberg sector, says the Polish official statement issued today.

Isolated detachments escaped and are now in disorderly retreat. Budenny's mounted men had been endeavoring to break through the Polish lines and march upon Lublin. They had virtually completed an encircling movement against Zamosz, midway between Lublin and Lemberg, but were outflanked by the Poles and attacked from the east. The soviet forces were defeated along the entire center of the front.

FIREMEN PLAY BALL

Lowell and Salem Fire Fighters in Battle Royal

The Lowell and Salem fire department baseball teams are contesting for honors on the campus of the Lowell Textile school in Moody street, Pawtucketville, this afternoon, and both aggregations are confident of victory. At the end of the second inning, however, it looked bad for the visiting players, for the score was 4 to 0 in favor of Lowell, but as the Salem boys said the game was now and that the wind was liable to shift any minute.

The Salem players made the trip to Lowell in automobiles, arriving at the grounds shortly before noon. They were accompanied by Deputy Chief James Keon, Capt. Narvis, Capt. Flynn, Capt. Adams, Capt. Gagan and Lieut. Collins, all of the Salem department; William Hefferan, manager of the Salem polo team, and Thomas Bates, a well known citizen of the Welch city. Shortly after the arrival of the visiting team, James O'Brien, its manager, conferred with the manager of the Lowell aggregation and it was decided that the visitors would be first at bat and Thomas Bates of Salem and Walter Cunningham were chosen to act as umpires.

FORMAL CLOSING OF THE LOCAL PLAYGROUNDS

With just enough tang in the air to keep participants and spectators on their toes, the annual closing exercises of the local playgrounds was held this afternoon on the South common and attracted its usual large attendance of relatives and friends of the boys and girls who have been playing and working for the past two months under expert direction.

The closing exercises were in the form of a pageant, showing the difference between organized and unorganized play, and was under the general direction of Mrs. Julian B. Keyes. Officials of the park department and members of the municipal council were among the spectators who watched the various events in which some 1500 children took part.

TREASURER BURRELL REFUSES TO WITHDRAW

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—Governor Coolidge, when questioned today regarding reports that he contemplated calling the legislature in special session to consider impeachment of State Treasurer Fred J. Burrell, said he had nothing to submit to the legislature at present.

State Auditor Alonzo B. Cook, who has been making an audit of the treasurer's accounts at the direction of the governor's council, had not completed his report today, but it is expected to be in the hands of the governor within a day or two. At the same time, Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen is compiling reports from the banks of the state to show which of them have used the advertising agency run by Burrell and the amount of state funds on deposit with each at various dates. It has been alleged that the treasurer solicited the advertising business of banks, and showed favoritism to those banks which retained his agency.

Mr. Burrell denies that his acts have been irregular. He said today that he would refuse to withdraw as a candidate for renomination as requested by formal vote of the republican state committee yesterday. The committee has as yet taken no action on the candidacy of James Jackson in opposition to Burrell.

BICYCLIST INJURED

An automobile owned and operated by Roland Lamy of 139 Salem street and a bicycle operated by Charles Garnett of 57 Butterfield street, collided at the junction of Moody and Allen streets shortly before 11:30 o'clock this forenoon. It is claimed that just as the machine was rounding the corner the cyclist crashed into the mudguard. Garnett received slight cuts about the hands and nose and was given first aid at the Red Cross pharmacy. The automobile was not damaged, but the bicycle's front wheel was smashed.

CONG. CURIE DEFEATED

DETROIT, Sept. 2.—Congressman Gilbert Currie, republican, today conceded that he had been defeated in Tuesday's primary by Roy O. Woodruff. All other congressmen who sought renomination and met opposition, apparently had safe leads.

For the republican gubernatorial nomination Alex J. Groesbeck, state attorney general, had a plurality of 17,173.

MOORE ON WAY WITH COX DATA

Pre-convention Manager for the Democratic Nominee Brings Document

Further Investigation Into Republican Year Book Being Prepared By Burns

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Members of the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures and contributions today expected to receive the data on which Governor Cox based his charges that the republicans were raising a $15,000,000 campaign fund. E. H. Moore of Youngstown, Ohio, Cox's pre-convention manager, was en route here with documents furnished by Governor Cox, according to Wilbur W. Marsh, democratic national treasurer.

Marsh told the committee yesterday the democrats thus far set aside only $100,000 for the speaking campaign. Senator Speaker asked Marsh if the expense of Gov. Cox's special train on the coming western trip would not cost about $100,000 to start with. Marsh said the cost was figured at $30,000.

Further investigation into the republican year book being prepared by William Barnes of the Albany Evening Journal, will be undertaken by the committee next week in Pittsburgh, it was announced today by Senator Kenyon. The committee there will devote particular attention to charges that liquor interests have contributed to various campaign funds, Senator Kenyon said.

Mr. Barnes, whose book was mentioned yesterday by Democratic Chairman George White and Marsh as an example of "sinister interests" supporting the republican party, will be subpoenaed to appear at Pittsburgh meetings.

Senator Kenyon yesterday questioned W. D. Jamieson, financial director of the democratic committee about letters sent by the committee to federal office holders, soliciting campaign subscriptions. Jamieson said he had sent special delivery letters to the homes of those he knew were federal office holders and did not send them a letter direct because he wanted to be wholly within the law.

LOYAL COALITION SENDS PROTEST TO COLBY

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—The Loyal Coalition of which Democrat Lloyd Stansfield, today sent to Secretary of State Colby a telegram protesting against intervention in the case of Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, who is on a hunger strike in an English jail. "The starvation from which he is suffering is self-imposed. The case is not in any sense a proper concern of the government of the United States," the protest said.

SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT STANDS, SAYS COLBY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The 19th amendment, giving women equal ballot rights with men, will stand despite the action of the Tennessee house in rescinding ratification, according to state department officials and other legal experts. It is held that the withdrawal of approval after the proclamation making the new law of the land operative is without effect.

The position was taken by Sen. Colby yesterday that the proclamation cannot be affected except by court decisions on the question as to whether or not the legislature of Tennessee actually ratified the amendment. There is a precedent for the attitude assumed by Secretary Colby.

The 16th amendment to the United States constitution was ratified by the New York legislature April 14, 1909, but January 5, 1910, the legislature passed a resolution withdrawing its assent. However, March 30, 1910, the secretary of state issued a proclamation declaring that this amendment had been ratified by the necessary number of states, including New York.

The national women's party announced yesterday afternoon that no efforts will be made to obtain ratification by a 37th state.

The suit brought by the anti-suffragists to restrain Secretary Colby from issuing his proclamation of ratification was withdrawn yesterday. The suit was brought by Charles H. Fairchild of New York. His counsel said Mr. Fairchild was convinced that a suit brought before the necessary number of states had ratified the amendment raised all the points necessary.

This suit is now before the court of appeals. It was stated that this court would be asked to refer the case to the United States supreme court to hasten a decision.

Refuses to Give Age

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 2.—Declining to give her age, Mrs. F. Ernest Holman of this city was refused registration here yesterday at the first session of the board. She seeks to make this a test case in court. She says that it is for the benefit of working girls, as many with whom she has talked are unwilling to register because the board requires applicants to give their exact age. Projections on this part of employers against women who attain or exceed the age of 16, she explains, causes many clerks to balk at registering when otherwise they would feel free to do so. She insists that any woman who is 21 or over is entitled to register upon taking oath that she is of legal voting age.

Harry E. Nixon, a lawyer, and Fred S. Jordan, candidate for the legislature, accompanied Mrs. Holman, long active in behalf of equal suffrage. They will apply to the courts for a writ of mandamus compelling the board to enter her name on the lists. The action is all in friendly spirit.

With the removal by the legislature Tuesday of restrictions and the adoption of provisions making it easier for women to register, the work of enrolling the women of Maine for the state election on Sept. 13 and the presidential election began in earnest.

LOWELL PEOPLE INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE COLLISION NEAR WORCESTER YESTERDAY

As a result of an automobile collision, which occurred at Cherry Valley Hill near Worcester, yesterday afternoon Dr. John de la Parra, of 1243 Middlesex street, this city, is suffering from contusions of the chest, while his wife has a broken rib. The accident occurred on a stretch of rough road when the de la Parra machine was crashed into by an automobile truck. After receiving first aid in Worcester Dr. and Mrs. de la Parra completed their trip to Lowell by train. The two machines that figured in the smash-up were badly damaged.

which was left at the White House, follows:

"Hon. Terrence MacSwiney, democratically elected mayor of one of Ireland's largest and most important municipalities, is confined in the Brixton jail in England for the commission of acts which are held by the free peoples of the world to be not only innocent but praiseworthy.

"He is dying of starvation and his attending physicians assert that, unless immediately released, his death will come within the next 12 hours.

"I have been requested by the organizations of American citizens of Irish blood, numbering millions in membership and sympathetic affiliation, to appeal to you to use your good offices to save his life. "If you could see your way clear to make direct official or personal appeal to Mr. Lloyd George we feel sure that this tragedy would be averted. "We therefore beg of you to make this direct appeal, either officially or in the name of our common humanity."

Appeals to Be Ignored

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Appeals in behalf of Terrence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, who is in a critical condition at Brixton prison, as a result of a hunger strike, will not be recognized by the British government, Sir Hamar

Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, intimated in an interview with the correspondent of the London Times at Lucerne today. He also indicated the government would unwaveringly adhere to its policy.

"None of the mercy which some seek to invoke for the lord mayor," said the chief secretary, "was shown the 30 policemen who have lost their lives in Ireland.

"The present lawlessness in Ireland is the work of a small body of men who are striving by carefully planned anarchy to impose secession from the British empire on 80 per cent. of the people of Ireland who do not want to secede."

Sir Hamar declared that if the Sinn Fein had been willing to accept anything less than complete Irish independence, Premier Lloyd George's proposal to meet Irish leaders would not have remained unanswered. He reiterated the government was willing to grant Ireland any form of government acceptable to the majority of the people, so long as the rights of the empire should be employed to prevent secession in Ireland.

Premier Lloyd George, the correspondent says, will return to London early next week, and will not attend the meeting of Premier Millerand and Giolitti which was fixed for Sept. 11. He adds that Emile Feisal, who was elected king of Syria and who at present is in Rome, is not going to Switzerland, having failed to arrange a meeting with the premier.

FR. VAUGHN'S VIEWS ON ADMIN.

INTERING LAST SACRAMENT TO HUNGER STRIKERS

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The question has been widely discussed here recently as to whether it is justifiable to give the last sacrament to hunger strikers. It is maintained by many persons that to all intents, such strikers are committing suicide. Father Bernard Vaughn, who is famous for his sermons and writings, yesterday made the following statement on the subject:

"Personally, from my reading of theology, moral and dogmatic, I should not feel entitled to administer the rites of the church to any one, no matter what his nationality, who was deliberately dying through a hunger strike. But I am free to admit that other theologians, far more learned than I am, would reverse my verdict on the subject.

"Some moralists there are who deny that hunger striking cannot be justified, others have drawn a distinction between objective truths and subjective errors. But as you are asking for my personal view of the subject, I give it for what it is worth, without comment upon any one who may differ from me."

ELEVEN POSTAL CLERKS REMOVED BY BURLERSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Postmaster Gen. Burleson yesterday ordered the removal of 11 clerks in the Chicago postoffice for soliciting or causing to be solicited sums of money from the public, and for publishing or causing to be published, false and slanderous statements relative to the postal service.

Evidence obtained by postoffice inspectors, Mr. Burleson said, showed that the Chicago postoffice clerks' union attempted to solicit contributions of $1000 each from a number of business men "who were patrons of the Chicago postoffice."

The postmaster general said such practices were in violation of a warning given by the postoffice department in 1918 and consequently the removal was ordered "in conformity with the notice promulgated at that time."

The postmaster general made public the report of postoffice inspectors, which says:

"The advertising campaign carried on by the Chicago postoffice clerks' union has been misleading to the public, uncalculated and reprehensible and was continued or renewed both in their meetings and in the public press after we had interviewed them and expressed our opinion fully to them in regard to the matter. We believe their conduct in this respect fully justified removal, but in the matter of soliciting contributions from the public there is undeniable evidence of distinct and flagrant violations of Section 171 of the Postal Laws and Regulations which have not been satisfactorily responded to and cannot be condoned."

CLOSING OF HOWARD STREET PLAYGROUND

Fully three hundred men, women and children witnessed the closing of the Howard street playground season last night which was marked by the presentation of a pageant in which half a hundred children took part under the direction of Miss Anna Periman, leader, and an efficient committee of assistants. Just on the crest of the hill in Howard st. in front of the Hebrew school was laid the scene of the exercises. During the early part of the evening it was difficult to keep the children who lined the streets as spectators, from surging upon the "stage," but with the assistance rendered by a few civilians, ropes were stretched on four sides to keep the crowd back.

The exercises consisted of group and solo dancing and singing by little girls and special dancing features by Manuel Dias, Miss Periman, who has been in charge of the Howard street playground since its opening, was given great credit for her work during the season and also for the excellent showing the children made last evening.

The costumes for the participants were prettily made of crepe paper. Playground assistants cut out the patterns and the little ones did their own sewing.

The playground children have been divided into two sections, according to age. The program opened up with the "Mountain March" by Section A which was followed by a solo dance by Gladys Latham. Section B then entertained with the "shoemakers' dance" and Monica Coseta, Nellie Coseta, Gladys Latham, Dorothy Pickles, Agnes Mellen, Lillian Bean and Esther Green performed in an Irish jig number. Manuel Dias, who proved as much an athlete as a dancer, gave a Spanish dance and a Chinese dance as an encore. "There Was a Little Girl" was then danced by Section B and after a solo dance by Dorothy Pickles all the children sang the National Anthem.

At the close of the exercises Miss Anna Periman, the director, distributed candy which was furnished through the kindness of Charles Matkegian, proprietor of a variety store at the corner of Grand and Chelmsford streets.

The director has been assisted by Miss Emma Periman, Miss Rose Brown and Miss Beatrice Matkiele.

BILLERICA SCHOOLS

The public schools of Billerica will reopen next Tuesday after the summer vacation. The Howe school recently purchased by the town will be utilized as an elementary school for the pupils of the Centre village, who have been attending the Pollard school.

A Friend Worth Knowing

We make many acquaintances, some of which develop into friendship, but not all prove themselves true friends. It is just as essential that we have a reliable friend in the form of a medicine as a personal friend, so that when we are afflicted with various ailments we can have something we can absolutely depend upon.

The next time you have any stomach, liver or kidney trouble, and you are not already acquainted with the wonderful merits of SEVEN BARKS, nature's remedy of roots and herbs, we urge you to give it a trial, and we will predict that it will become one of your most valuable friends from a medical standpoint.

For nearly half a century SEVEN BARKS has been a valuable and timely friend to all sufferers of stomach and liver disorders. A trial will quickly prove its wonder efficiency, and after that you will never be without it, and gladly recommend it to your friends.

Doctor's bills these days run into money fast, and can often be saved if you will but keep on hand a bottle of SEVEN BARKS, the old-fashioned remedy that our parents and grandparents used to keep their families rugged and well.

If you want a friend that will stand by you in time of need, ask your druggist for SEVEN BARKS. Price but 50 cents per bottle, enough to last a long time—Adv.

LODGE DEFENDS HIS ACTION ON PEACE

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 2.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, speaking here yesterday before the Merrimack County Republican club, accused the democratic party of "unlimited misrepresentation of well known facts." In its platform reference to alleged inconsistencies in his attitude on the making of peace with Germany.

"I am charged with inconsistency," said Senator Lodge, "because in an address I disapproved of deserting our allies and making a separate peace in the midst of the war and yet was willing to make a separate peace with Germany two years and a half after that speech was made and when all our allies had left us and had themselves made peace with Germany. I was right on both occasions and entirely consistent." The senator added that what was important was not the question of his personal consistency, but that one of the two great parties should have begun the campaign with misrepresentation.

Attacked in Democratic Platform

Senator Lodge explained that he was led to make this personal reference to himself because the situation was unusual and he had refrained heretofore from discussing it until he could do so in a speech. "I think I am safe in saying," he continued, "that never before has the declaration of principles of a great national party carried an attack on any individual member of the opposite party. But the democrats at San Francisco selected an attack in the democratic platform because I fear that if I had used that expression the irony might have been misunderstood. What they did I confess amused me and also gave me a cheerful feeling that such efforts as I had made to save the country from what I believed would be both a great wrong and a great disaster, had counted."

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

MRS. HUMBLE MEANS

Mr. and Mrs. Humble-Dee, in their home under the ground, wrap their babies in the softest of blankets. Like some of the clever little bird-builders, they search for things to weave with, hair, bits of string, and downy tufts that have dropped from Dicky Duck or Goosey Gander on their way to the Lily pond. The softest, fuzziest blankets they weave, it makes you sleepy to look at them.

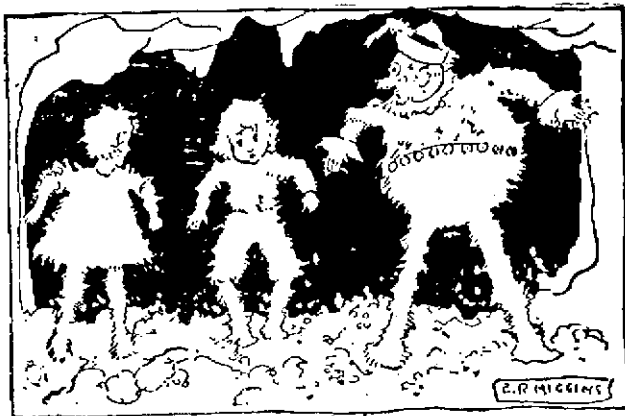

But there are times that you want blankets and times that you don't, and are very quiet, bee blankets are very loose.

So when Nick and Nancy and the fairy fell into them, you know what happened. The blankets immediately came to pieces and stuck all over them and the harder they pulled to get them off, the more the blankets came to pieces and the faster they stuck.

"Great gumdrops!" panted Tingaling. "I believe we're tarred and feathered, children. I must say it's a nice way to treat company! Better wish yourselves out of here with your Green Skins, and I'll get out the very best way I can."

But it wasn't necessary. Just then one of the bee babies sneezed and Mrs. Bee rushed in. When she saw what her husband had done there was a grand rumpus indeed, and she called in the neighbors to help her put things right. Moreover, she made Mr. Humble pay his rent without another word.

when Mr. Humble put three of them just where Nancy and Nick and Mr. Tingaling, the fairyman landlord, were sure to step, it was certainly at the very worst time, for they were covered with honey, having stumbled in the overturned honey-pots (which also was part of Mr. Humble's work.)

There's another thing about the blankets in Mr. and Mrs. Humble's house. They don't stick together like other blankets do; because bee babies ed sufficiently to make the democrats remember me, I had a comfortable sensation that what I had been doing was not without effect.

"What they did exactly was this: They quoted from what they called an article of mine which they said appeared in the Forum Magazine of December 1915 in which I had denounced any attempt on the part of the United States to make a separate peace with Germany at that time. On the publication of this statement in the democratic platform many of the leading newspapers of the country immediately pointed out that the article in question was not published in the Forum of December, 1915, but appeared in the Forum of June, 1918—that it appeared while the war was at its height and before the great advance which resulted in victory.

"Flagrant Falsehood"

The falsehood was so flagrant that the democrats admitted it themselves and changed the date of the statement several weeks later, in the official publication of their platform, to June 1915. This of course destroyed the main point of the attack and got rid of the most obvious lie, but it still remained with a large burden of falsehood upon it because in the article as published by the Forum in June, 1915, there was a note appended saying that this article was an address delivered by me before the Massachusetts Historical society and was printed by them with the permission of the society. This note the author of the statement in the democratic platform must have seen if he had looked at the copy of the Forum from which he professed to quote. As a matter of fact, I delivered the address printed in the Forum of June, 1915, on the 11th of October, 1917, and it was printed in the October number of the Proceedings of the Historical Society, only six months after our declaration of war and when the war was, of course still raging.

"What I said on the 11th of October, 1917, to the Historical society was this: 'Every man, the president who delivered the war message and the congressmen who voted for war, would be guilty of the blackest of crimes if they were willing to make a peace on the status quo ante bellum and recreate the situation which existed before the war.'

"I also said in the same paragraph: 'We must have peace with victory; complete victory; no other will stand or be worth having.'

"And further on I said: 'We cannot in the first place make peace, except in company with our allies.'

Would Not Change Word

"At that time voices were heard, not only here but elsewhere, suggesting that the United States should make a separate peace. A separate peace then would have meant the desertion of our allies in the midst of war. There is not a word I then said that I would change now. What I then said, in October, 1917, was right and I am glad that I said it and I am glad that my address was reprinted and I have not a word of what I said to change or withdraw. The point of the democratic charge is that I was grossly inconsistent in voting on May 15, 1920, for the Knox resolution declaring peace after having denounced the making of a separate peace in 1917; that is, that I was grossly inconsistent in voting to declare a peace which actually existed, a year and a half after hostilities had ceased and after our allies had made a separate peace for themselves with Germany, because I had denounced the making of a separate peace in the very midst of war. I know that I was absolutely right in voting for the Knox resolution. All the other countries had made peace with Germany. We had declined to ratify the treaty of Versailles on account of the covenant of the League of Nations, except with reservations which would have protected the United States. But all our allies had ratified the treaty of peace in May, 1920, and it was then our duty, as it is our duty now, to put an end to the technical state of war between the United States and Germany. It is wholly technical and it is not a little difficult to establish that even a technical state of war exists.

"But my personal consistency or inconsistency is not of importance in considering the merits of the great questions before us. What is important is that one of the two great parties should put in the forefront of its platform a falsehood, first as to the date when the article appeared and should then after admitting the falsehood in regard to the date of publication in the Forum continue to adhere to the utter misrepresentation as to the article, its purpose and the time of the delivery of the address. To begin a campaign in this way throws a good deal of light on the character of those responsible for the statement as well as upon the weakness of a cause which recks, from lack of argument, to sustain itself by unlimited misrepresentation of well-known facts."

Shame on Them.

PERHAPS there are a few mothers who do not know the virtues of Fletcher's Castoria. Perhaps there are a few who know that there are imitations on the market, and knowing this demand Fletcher's. It is to ALL motherhood then that we call attention to the numerous imitations and counterfeits that may be set before them.

It is to all motherhood everywhere that we ring out the warning to beware of the "Just-as-good". For over thirty years Fletcher's Castoria has been an aid in the upbuilding of our population; an aid in the saving of babies.

And yet there are those who would ask you to try something new. Try this. Try that. Even try the same remedy for the tiny, scarcely breathing, babe that you in all your robust womanhood would use for yourself. Shame on them.

CASTORIA

Your Friend, the Physician.

The history of all medicines carries with it the story of battles against popular beliefs: fights against prejudice: even differences of opinion among scientists and men devoting their lives to research work; laboring always for the betterment of mankind. This information is at the hand of all physicians. He is with you at a moment's call. He is the one to whom you can always look for advice even though it might not be a case of sickness. He is not just a doctor. He is a student to his last and final call. His patients are his family and to lose one is little less than losing one of his own flesh and blood.

Believe him when he tells you—as he will—that Fletcher's Castoria has never harmed the slightest babe, and that it is a good thing to keep in the house. He knows.

PROUD OF IT!

Who wouldn't be proud of ice cream made with Eagle Brand? It has a smoothness, a delicious new flavor that you can't get any other way. Kiddies love Eagle Brand ice cream and it's good for them, too. Eagle Brand is just pure, wholesome milk and sugar—use it in the desserts children like best. The following for instance:

BORDEN'S FRENCH ICE CREAM

1½ cups Borden's Eagle Brand Condensed Milk
1½ cups hot water
1 tablespoonful cornstarch
2 eggs
Speck of salt
1 tablespoonful vanilla

Heat the milk and water in a double boiler. Combine with the cornstarch made smooth with a little cold water. Stir till it thickens and cook over water at least 15 minutes. Add the salt to the eggs, return to the double boiler and cook 1 minute, stirring constantly. Cool. Add the vanilla. Freeze. Ice cream should be packed after freezing, and stand at least 2 hours to ripen before using. One egg may be omitted and another tablespoonful cornstarch used instead.

FULLER ASSAILS WARNER

Hot Political Fights on—
County Commissioner and
Counsellor Contests

"It is a contemptible falsehood," was the reply of Joseph E. Warner, speaker of the house of representatives and candidate for lieutenant governor to Congressman Alvan T. Fuller, who charged Warner with using his public office as speaker to further his private interests.

Fuller charges that Warner's law partner employed by a Fall River cotton corporation appeared before a committee appointed by Speaker Warner to swing certain child labor legislation more to the taste of the mill owners. On this engagement Fuller claims that Warner reaped private gain from his public office but this is denied by Mr. Warner. Anyhow the bill favored by the mill company was rejected.

Fuller has this to say: "Meanwhile I should like to ask you if you, as speaker of the house, did not exercise the influence of your office to procure the appointment of the large recess committee of 61 at an expense of over $70,000 to the taxpayers of Massachusetts. The avowed purpose of this committee, I understand, was to review the work of a small committee of lawyers, presumably all experts, who were appointed and who have been working for two or three years on the revision of the statutes of Massachusetts, but whose work I understand has not yet reached for review and that, therefore, the extent of the work done by this large and luxurious committee of 61 has been to convene, organize into small committees for what little work there is or will be to do, draw their extra salaries of $1000 each, plus expenses, and adjourn for ten weeks. Do you think the taxpayers should be called upon to pay for the handling out of plums of this sort and why did you use your influence to pass them out?"

This is a legitimate matter for the voters to consider and it is one which if as represented shows Mr. Warner in a rather unfavorable light. The controversy between the two candidates shows the necessity of selecting a good, clean and capable democratic candidate for the office of lieutenant governor.

County Commission Contest

Walter C. Wardwell, former mayor of Cambridge, and at present county commissioner, was a visitor in Lowell recently, presumably looking over the political situation. Mr. Wardwell is probably the most popular candidate on the state ticket. He is a republican, it is true, but in his own city, Cambridge, he has not an enemy in any political party. He was appointed county commissioner on the death of Levi Gould and was elected in 1917, so that his three year term will expire in 1921. During his service as county commissioner, he has increased his popularity, having made friends all over the county. He has been connected with county government on and off for 25 years, having served as court officer and deputy sheriff before becoming mayor of Cambridge. He is a strong advocate of good roads and stood by Commissioner Barlow in favoring the First street boulevard plan. He will also favor the new plan when the time comes for the county to do its part of the work or appropriate funds to meet its share of the expense. Commissioner Alfred L. Cutting of Weston is a candidate this year, though his term does not expire until 1922; but owing to the biennial election law, there will be no election in 1921.

Arthur G. Colburn of Braintree is a candidate for county commissioner again this year. He was a candidate against Mr. Barlow last year and received only 7700 votes to $500 for Smith J. Adams and 1700 for Erson B. Barlow.

It does not look as if Mr. Colburn will have much chance of greater success this year. About two-thirds of the county vote is in the cities and one-third in the towns. Wardwell is popular in the towns as well as in the cities and Cutting has a large following which it will be difficult to overcome.

The Counsellor Fight

The counsellor fight is waxing warm on the republican side with Charles

FAINTING AND
DIZZY SPELLS

The Cause of such Symptoms
and Remedy Told in This Letter.

Syracuse, N. Y.—"When I commenced the Change of Life I was poorly, had no appetite and had fainting spells. I suffered for two or three years before I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the Liver Pils which I saw advertised in the papers and in your little books. I took about twelve bottles of your Vegetable Compound and found it a wonderful remedy. I commenced to pick up at once and my suffering was relieved. I have told others about your medicine and know of some who have taken it. I am glad to help others all I can."—Mrs. E. E. DEXTER, 437 W. Lafayette Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Moreover this reliable remedy contains no narcotics or harmful drugs and owns its efficiency to the medicinal extractive of the native roots and herbs which it contains.

Sumner Smith of Lincoln apparently in the lead. The fact that he has been a town officer for 31 years and member of the senate for three years, indicates that he has the confidence of republican voters. Smith J. Adams of this city is making an active canvass and is likely to run well. He would make good commissioner. Fred Lewis, an ex-member of the legislature, is also a candidate. Ex-Senator Eames who was defeated last year for reelection is a candidate for councillor and is making an active canvass. Another candidate from Medford has been heard of, but some say he has withdrawn. If he is still in the fight, he appears to be out to win the lowest place on the ballot when the voters are counted.

BACK PAY FOR CAR
SHOP WORKERS

Back pay for the entire month of May, last, for those who were employees of the Boston and Maine railroad general repair shops in Billerica at that time, in accordance with the last decree of the railway wage decision board, was delivered this forenoon. The back pay was given to workers of both the shop and clerical forces. In most instances the back pay was figured upon a net increase of 13 cents per hour, although in some cases it went as low as 10 cents per hour. Three months' back pay is still due the employees.

Defeat For Bolsheviki

and they had to retreat in disorder with the Poles in close pursuit.

Russians Led Into Trap

The Bolsheviki lost heavily in killed and wounded; the Poles capturing thousands of prisoners, 16 guns and enormous quantities of material. The fighting centered in the Zamosc region. There were numerous cavalry clashes with the infantry filling in the gaps and attacking all along the line simultaneously. The operations were carried out in accordance with the Polish plan which led the Russians into traps where they were attacked from all sides.

The communique reports successes along the entire center and southern fronts.

Germans Not to Join

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—(By Associated Press).—Dr. Walter Simons, the foreign minister, addressing the Reichstag foreign affairs committee today declared he had been urged to collaborate with the Russian Bolsheviki against the western powers as a means of breaking the bonds imposed by the treaty of Versailles, but that after mature reflection he had rejected this course.

"If we had followed these exhortations," said the foreign minister, "Germany would immediately have become a theatre of war. Furthermore, the disastrous consequences which Bolshevism might be expected to bring with it would have fallen with double force upon Germany."

Dr. Simons said proposals also had been made that Germany co-operate with the western powers against Russia, which he considered an equally impossible course.

"No power at war with soviet Russia," he added, "need count upon our support."

Admit Soviet Retirement

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The Russian soviet forces endeavoring to encircle Lemberg have retired to the eastward under Polish pressure says the soviet official statement of Wednesday received today by wireless. Some successes for the soviet troops are reported on the centre of the fighting front.

"In the Berezay and Criklov regions (in the Crimea) we are engaged with the enemy who is offering fierce resistance," the statement adds.

New Wage Scale For Naval Employees

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Unanimous recommendations of the navy yard wage board for a new wage schedule to affect about 75,000 employees will be laid before Secretary Daniels today. Mr. Daniels said he would endeavor to act on the new schedule within two days.

Predicts Common Council in London

EDMONTON, Alberta, Sept. 2.—Establishment within the year of a common council at London on which British dominions would be represented by resident ministers was predicted by Viscount Brunham of the imperial press conference delegation touring Canada, in a speech here today.

Cost of Federal Guarantee to Railroads

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Federal guarantee of railroad earnings resulted in an increase in the public debt of $101,755,000 during August, according to treasury figures issued today showing the nation's gross debt to be $21,324,000.

TELEPHONE ALARMS

Rubbish fires were responsible for two telephone alarms today, the first at 11:19 o'clock in the cellar of the house numbered 28 Mt. Grove street and the other at 12:10 o'clock in the rear of the Bagshaw plant in Warren street. No damage.

Specimen Ballots

difference in the color of the ballots for men and women voters. The specimen ballots, as usual, are white with no distinction between those to be given male and female voters. The regular ballots to be used Tuesday will undoubtedly be of another color.

The name of William Salmon, a candidate for representative in the 15th Middlesex district, does not appear on the ballot despite the fact that Mr. Salmon filed his nomination papers in due time at the office of the election commission and the papers were forwarded to the secretary of the commonwealth. Inasmuch as his name does not appear on the ballot, Mr. Salmon's only opportunity to receive votes will be by the sticker method.

Another item of local interest made known by the arrival of the ballots is the fact that Mayor Bernard J. Golden of Woburn will oppose Congressman John Jacob Rogers of this city for a seat in the national house. Congressman Rogers has had the fifth congressional district held practically to himself for a number of years, but this year Mayor Golden will be his democratic opponent.

There had been some question as to whether Mayor Golden's name would appear on the ballot at the primaries owing to the fact that it was not included in a list purporting to come from the office of the secretary of state immediately after the expiration of time for filing nomination papers. Mayor Golden's papers were circulated by friends and he himself did not know whether they had obtained sufficient signatures to make him a candidate. He is sure of nomination as there is no other democratic aspirant.

MAN KILLED IN LYNN YESTERDAY

BELEIVED TO HAVE COUSIN

Notification was received at the police station last night from the police of Salem that one John Hogan, said to have a cousin by the name of James Connors in this city, was killed in Lynn yesterday and that the body would be buried Friday morning from 21 Linden street, Lynn. The telephone message gave Connors' address as Pleasant street, but the James Connors at that place claims that he has no cousin by the name of Hogan. Connors has not yet been located, but the police are of the opinion that he lives in some other section of the city.

COURSES IN EDUCATION

According to the latest reports from the high school authorities, certification in education will now be required of all students making application for entrance to college after completing their high school courses. By a ruling adopted by many of the colleges in this section of the country, certification by an education teacher or passing of required examination in education is necessary for entrance. Beginning with the opening of the local high school this month, education courses will therefore be under such standards. Miss Mary Joyce is already at work planning a new system of courses in education which will require the introduction of a new set of instruction books.

WOMEN ELECTION OFFICIALS

It is doubtful if we fully realize the extent of the political change that has flashed upon this country. If women are to embrace the opportunity now offered them to exercise the franchise, our polling places should be nearly twice as large as they are and every item based upon numbers almost doubled—provided the women register.

The election officers, all men, have been chosen, but the women will want to have a finger in the pie; although as yet they have not been considered. Are we not to have female election inspectors and will the men sit down as usual after the polls close to count the ballots without a woman to check up their totals? Occasionally the atmosphere of the polling booth has been made dense with the fumes of tobacco smoke, but now all this will be stopped and no gentleman will so demean himself as to smoke in the presence of ladies. The powder puff will not be barred, however.

The counting of ballots is a task that the men have always abhorred, so that they will undoubtedly be willing that it shall be done largely by the new class of voters. The count begins immediately after the polls close and sometimes lasts till the middle of the following forenoon, although usually finished sometime about daybreak. During these dreary hours, the election officers of opposing parties have to watch each other, lest an effort should be made to juggle the figures, so as to count in the candidate of one party and count out those of another. It is true, that election officers are under a solemn obligation to be fair; but in the excitement of political contests, it has been found that some partisans think only of pulling through the candidates of their choice.

Nothing of that kind has ever happened in Lowell, of course, although nobody can guarantee that all future election officers will be strictly fair as between the parties. It is on these counting committees that women can render valuable service. As a rule they are better at figures than men and as between a woman who can count and a man who can't, why not give the former a chance to earn ten dollars a day or whatever the service pays? We have heard a prediction that the mingling of men and women in these political activities will convert a great many misogynists who have always avoided the presence of women, and cause men to get married, who would otherwise never yield to the influence of feminine charms.

We surmise, therefore, that great opportunities of happy matrimonial unions will be opened up to spinners, who, under the old system of having the men do all political work, would never have a chance of marriage. Thus, it appears, that even if the present list of election officers must be revised, there should be sufficient representation of the women voters employed at the polls and to help in supervising the counting of ballots.

OUR VANISHING FORESTS

With the demand for wood pulp for paper so pressing and the price of lumber for building purposes higher than ever before, there is certainly good reason for giving more attention than ever to the important work of reforestation wherever the natural forests have been cleared away. All that is necessary, is to co-operate with Nature in restoring the noble forests that have fallen before the axe of the wood chopper.

Each generation owes it to posterity to leave the natural woods and the sylvan grandeur that clothes the land as abundant and luxuriant as it found them. We fear that the present generation is not doing its duty in this respect.

Ten years ago the United States produced two-thirds of its pulp wood, but now two-thirds of it is imported. So fast has the change come about, that not more than one-third of the newspapers issued in this country last year were printed on the product of American forests.

Yet there is ample waste land available for the growth of new trees. Indeed, in the vast majority of cases, the land from which the lumber was cut down is vacant and now covered merely with brush. It is time the American people realized that the growth of forests brings a liberal financial return. Most people feel that the time required for such returns from a crop of trees, is too long to offer any inducement to the land owner. That is true only if a long time be allowed to elapse between the cutting down of full grown trees and the planting of new. Properly owners, in a great number of cases, leave the lumber land idle for years after clearing it of trees. It is this error that has caused the scarcity of wood pulp. Lumber dealers seek only the supply, and care nothing for the utilization of the cut-over area for the growth of new forests.

It is to overcome this national evil that the American Forestry association is using its efforts throughout the country. It should be liberally backed by the government and its appeals should be heeded by every property owner who has waste land suitable for the growth of timber.

Waste land "is a loafer" because it is taxed and will produce nothing unless properly utilized. To meet this national need and to do our duty to this and future generations, we should plant at least as many trees as we cut down; and we should do the planting as soon as possible after felling the noble trees that Nature has been nurturing for our use in her primeval forests.

We are face to face with a timber famine and a wood pulp famine; and we can find no proper substitutes for wood pulp or for wooden ties and many other industrial essentials supplied by wood. The woodman's axe and the ravages of fire have removed forests that Nature, unaided, cannot replace in fifty years. The fine forests of the south are said to be fast disappearing, while those of the western coast are also falling before the unprecedented demand; so that nothing short of a firm government policy to promote reforestation, can save the country from a continuation of the present scarcity of lumber and wood pulp.

BUYING THE PRESIDENCY

"One trouble with Cox's denunciation of the republican campaign funds is that Mr. Cox, as a sensible man and one experienced in politics, cannot very well believe a word of his own diatribes. He knows as well as the next man that the presidency cannot be bought. He hasn't the faintest idea that there will be any attempt to buy it."—Courier Citizen.

Yes, Mr. Cox is a sensible man and he believes what he says when he charges that there is a move on in the republican party to buy the presidency. By that he means that the vote of certain doubtful states that would not otherwise go republican, is to be turned over to the republican party by the lavish use of money, just as the vote for Senator Newberry in Michigan was rolled up to proportions that it could never have reached but for the boodle campaign. The movement to purchase the presidency was started in support of General Wood's candidacy, but the corrupt methods having been exposed, he had to retire rather than enter the contest under the stigma of being the tool of the money power of the country. If Governor Cox prevents that influence from being exerted in behalf of Senator Harding, or any other candidate, he will have rendered a patriotic service to the nation.

WOOLEN MILLS REOPEN

The operatives of the American Woollen company, numbering in the neighborhood of 10,000, have had a long spell of idleness; and they might feel differently about it, if they believed it was necessary or due to business depression. The American Woollen company has 51 mills and when all shut down, their idleness must necessarily operate to keep up the price of cloth, which we are cautioned is "not wearing apparel." But anybody or any company that keeps up the materials from which clothing is made, helps to keep up the cost of wearing apparel. It would be well if some government agency investigated the causes of this long shutdown in order to ascertain whether its object was as stated by the company or to maintain the high price of cloth against tendencies calculated to force a reduction. It looks as if Carson's long threatened war has been started in Ulster. Already all Catholic residents have been driven from Lisburn and several thousand from Belfast while their homes and business places have been given to the flames or otherwise destroyed. Incidental to this crusade by Carson's followers, over 20 have been killed and 200 wounded by bullets. The victims are chiefly nationalists, who were shot either by the unionists or the troops, while offering resistance to the attacks made upon them or while fleeing from their burning homes.

The picture of Lord Mayor McSwiney, of Cork, shows him to be young and good looking; in facial expression somewhat resembling Robert Emmet before the shadow of the gallows put the fierce look of rage and defiance into that hero's countenance. The lord mayor's picture was taken, of course, before he entered a British dungeon. It is to be hoped that he will survive to battle for the cause through the stormy stages of his final settlement.

Treasurer Upham of the Republican national committee declares that he never saw the pamphlet from which Gov. Cox quoted and which was designated as a republican bulletin on campaign funds. It is now up to Gov. Cox or some of his informants to show that the bulletin was issued from republican sources. Treasurer Upham may not have seen it and yet it may have been issued by one of his sub-committees, that "campaign drive committee" for example.

The devotion of the men of the Yankee division for General Edwards is a proof of his able leadership and their loyalty to authority wisely applied. The farewell demonstration in honor of the general on his departure from Boston, has rarely been equaled in expressions of real affection and esteem. So far as the outside public can learn, General Edwards is entirely worthy of the encomiums showered upon him.

Some republicans are now arguing that $15,000,000, the figures mentioned by Gov. Cox, is not more than half the amount needed to carry the election. They cite the fact that it cost $60,000 to send an unsent letter to every voter in New York state. Perhaps Gov. Cox has done the republicans the injustice of understating the amount of the fund to be raised by their campaign committees.

At last the republicans have picked out James Jackson of Dedham to run for state treasurer in opposition to Fred J. Burrell, the present incumbent. It remains for the democrats to select a candidate who will command support from both sides. Jackson's only claim to support is his identification with the Red Cross organization.

We would respectfully suggest that Franklin D. Roosevelt and Governor Coolidge, the two vice presidential candidates, speak from the same platform at a public meeting in some large city outside the two states to which they respectively belong. In that way, people could judge of the comparative merits of the two candidates.

If Gov. Cox comes to Lowell, he will get a rousing welcome and men and women of all parties will go to hear him discuss the issues of the campaign. In case he can come here, Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan will doubtless arrange to give him a fitting reception or else have the event assume organized form.

James Jackson, the hand picked republican candidate for state treasurer, is somewhat deaf, a defect which may save him from hearing many of the unpleasant things said of the man he aspires to succeed, if not of himself.

Poland makes a mistake in attacking Lithuania. These two new republics should have formed an alliance for their mutual benefit rather than engage in destructive warfare which may ultimately result in the destruction of both.

The soviet government of Russia can no longer be trusted to deal honorably with any nation. The treatment of the Polish peace delegation has been disgracefully hypocritical, deceitful and treacherous.

If all the experts, who are sure they could run a newspaper better than the editors, were to get into the business, what a lot of other occupations would be deserted.

The Pilgrim fathers had their troubles, but they were not high prices, profiteers, Ponzi's, lack of houses or threatened coal shortage.

SEEN AND HEARD

"Liners are the cause of all the sins and crimes in the world."

Maybe Trotsky will show his comrades how to trot back toward Warsaw.

Politicians used to have their ears to the ground; now they have their eyes on the check book.

Theatrical people complain that some companies can't travel now because of the increased railroad rates. That'll be a relief.

While they war about campaign subscriptions, the politicians should not forget that the fundamental of a campaign is the fund.

When asked what he did with his shoes when he wore them out, John Cotter answered that he wore them back in the house again.

"Babe Ruth has given away a score of bats to be auctioned for various benevolences, but better life he hasn't given away the budgeon he really uses for these homers."

A Neat Worker
"Father, please let me marry Jim. He's so neat. Why, when he was in France he got two medals for cleaning out dugouts and mopping up."

Very Mean Man
"Would you mind telling me what the upkeep of your limousine amounts to?"
"Certainly not," replied the prosperous citizen. "But may I ask why you want to know?"
"My wife's been after me to buy a silver and I'm going to argue against it on a limousine basis."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

The Sucker Crop
A writer for the Newspaper Enterprise association with which The Sun is connected allows that Barnum died too early. He says that had he lived till today, he'd have, without doubt, revised his much-quoted statement to read: "There's one born every second." America's bumper crop this season, to judge by every report, is suckers. Fishing was never so good. A conservative and reliable banker declared the other day that, since the end of the war, three or four billions of dollars have been invested in new businesses—and most of it has been lost for the investors.

Get-rich-quick schemes, despite recent incidents such as the Ponzi case and in the face of repeated exposures, are flourishing with unprecedented vigor. Oil, rubber, autos, foreign exchange and a dozen other games are claiming their thousands of victims. Roger Babson, noted financial writer, pointed out the situation in a convincing manner the other day, when he wrote that money is like work; that the man who draws a far bigger salary than his job his worth is in danger of losing both the salary and the job, and that the man who expects a far bigger interest return than his money is worth is likely to lose the profits and the principal. There is a world of safe investment offered today with fair profits in return. No safe investment can ever offer the tremendous profits pictured by the prospectus writers for wild-cat promoters. To the man who is puzzled to tell which class of investments to make, here is an excellent recipe, given by a banker to a widow who asked his advice on investing some money in a brightly-painted oil scheme: Madam, if you have enough money so you can take a chance with it and not suffer if you lose it, buy the oil stock. But if you need the money; if you can't afford to lose it; don't buy."

"Look!" said the fire-fly, disclosing his spark.
"I am so brilliant I shine in the dark. Surely I'm more than a commonplace star."
Stuck away off in the heavens afar,
For I come to brighten you right where you are.

"Really, I feel that I'm highly commendable.
As for the moon, why it isn't dependable.

It's shaved or it's quartered, or black as a pall,
But is my light so frivolous? No, not at all.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Decatur street, the narrowest and one of the most dangerous thoroughfares in the city, is being surfaced by employees of the street department, and those who have occasion to travel through the narrow street are very much pleased with the improvement, but they would delight in seeing the thoroughfare made a one-way street by the city council. The danger to which vehicles are daily exposed has been pointed out to the city fathers on various occasions and petitions have been presented asking that the street be widened, but the petitions in every instance have been pigeon-holed. Those interested feel that the widening of the street at this time would be too expensive and say this could go over to a time when such an undertaking would not mean the expense of hundreds of thousands of dollars, but they believe public convenience and necessity demand that this be made a one-way street.

Several well known Lowell men recently met "Bill" Kelscher, former basketball player and fight referee of this city, but now of New York down in Maine and they report that he was more than glad to meet friends from his boyhood town. Mr. Kelscher, debonair, affable and delightfully entertaining as of yore, has been away from Lowell for about 15 years and when the Lowell men got him started, he regaled them with many an interesting sidelight on his basketball experience with the old Burkes and later with Portsmouth and other New England teams. It was he who refereed the boxing bout a number of years ago which later resulted in the death of John Dillon, one of the principals, and he rehearsed that unfortunate incident saying that he regretted it as much as anything in his whole athletic career. When he was engaged by Princeton to coach its varsity basketball team, Mr. Kelscher had his eye on the inter-collegiate championship and had not a call to the business world lured him away, sporting writers at that time averred that his outfit would have landed the title for the college over which President Wilson once presided. It is some time since he has glided over a floor in a basketball game. For several years he has been in the automobile business in Connecticut and New York and with characteristic ability has achieved distinction as an expert in his line.

How would you like to see seven, big, healthy moose taking breakfast on their knees in a grainfield? Reckon you would go a good many miles to see them. But we met a New Brunswick farmer a week or ten days ago who didn't have to go far to see them and the sight did not please him the least little bit, for it was his grain that the big hungry fellows were devouring. And that wasn't his only objection. In order to get at the grain the kings of the New Brunswick forests had broken down a considerable section of what the farmer had regarded as a very reliable fence. If it had been the open season he might have supplied himself with meat enough to last him through the winter, but the open season there doesn't begin until Sept. 15. The farmer said that the moose and deer, too, were unusually plentiful this summer. He had seen baby moose, earlier in the season, playing in his fields and he had also observed the mother moose trying to make friends with the cattle. The cattle, however, did not reciprocate and kept away from that end of the pasture nearest the woods.

CONTINUATION SCHOOL

Superintendent of Schools Explains Minor Law Concerning School Attendance

At the regular monthly meeting of the overseers of the Hamilton Manufacturing company, held in one of the large mill rooms yesterday afternoon, Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, explained the object and purpose of the state enactment, effective yesterday, which requires every employed minor between the ages of 11 and 16 years, to attend continuation school four hours each week for as many weeks in the year as the regular day schools are open. The continuation school in this city will open on or about Sept. 20, the time set for the opening of the public day schools, and will hold classes in the high school annex in Paige street. Courses in the continuation school will provide both academic and practical exercises and will consist of common school studies suited to the advancement of the pupils. The shops in the high school annex will be used for practical courses, according to the superintendent, and in the future, a pre-requisite for an employment certificate will be registration in the continuation school.

The continuation school proposition is not wholly new to the overseers of the Hamilton mills for they have been co-operating with the school board since January, 1919, when the Hamilton Mfg. Co. established the first continuation school in the state outside of Boston. The school was conducted in the mill under the regular school system and was directly in charge of Miss O'Neill. The regular weekly attendance was 55 minors. Mr. Milliken, agent of the company, was the first to establish a continuation school in Lowell and he has rendered great assistance to those minors upon whom rests either the partial or entire support of their families. The Hamilton overseers are keenly interested in the practical ideas of the day as applied to modern industry and their monthly meetings are productive of progressive ideas.

The meeting was called to order at 2.30 o'clock by Mrs. William McNamara, service director for the company. Mr. Molloy stated that it was not his intention to give a detailed explanation of the continuation idea, but simply to arouse interest and to make it plain that it was a state law that was going to be enforced and that it resulted from the application of a good principle. He asked that the overseers "talk continuation school" and see that all the minors under their direction attend and benefit by the school.

In the way of explanation the superintendent said that these minors between 14 and 16 years, not employed, must attend school 20 hours each week, that is, attend the regular day schools, but for those employed, attendance at school of four hours each week would be required. For the continuation school the high school annex will be open each week day between the hours of 1 and 5 o'clock.

"It is not true," said Mr. Molloy, "that if you educate men too much they become poor workers. I do admit, however, that if a boy goes through school just to get by, he does not benefit and he may not be a good worker. But if a boy goes to school with the idea of work and studying he becomes a better workman."

"It is the proper blending of the practical and theoretical that makes good" workmen. You all know that the most important thing in all work is intelligent workmen." Mr. Molloy then spoke of the institution whereby soldiers overseas were given the opportunity of studying while awaiting their home-ward journey and how the educational and schooling idea has been introduced into the army system through the belief that educated soldiers make the best fighters.

"We can't tell exactly with what success our continuation school will meet, but we do know of its possibilities. We want intelligent workmen, workmen with proper moral stamina and efficient education. From figures which I can't remember quite correctly, I am inclined to believe that the continuation school in Lowell will surpass that of many other cities of the state."

In reply to questions, the speaker said that the new law applied to all minors between the ages of 11 and 16 years, regardless of what education they may already have and of their employment. He also explained that the local textile school could not as yet provide for any continuation classes, but stated that it was his hope that in a few years continuation students would be attending the evening Textile school courses.

"Let us put our heads together," said Mr. Molloy in conclusion, "and do all that we can to make this continuation school a success, both for the minors and for the employers also."

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

HAIR GROWN ON MR. BRITTAIN'S BALD HEAD BY INDIANS' MYSTERIOUS HAIR GROWER

My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. The scalp was shiny. An expert said that no hair would grow on my head. Yet now, at an age over 65, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The picture shows here are from my photographs.

Indians' Secret of Hair Growth

At a time when I had become discouraged at trying various hair lotions, tinctures, specialists' treatments, etc., I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian "medicine man" who had an ointment that he asserted would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith, I gave it a trial. From recent photo. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, lay by lay, into a thick growth, and ere long my hair was as prolific as in my youthful days.

That I was astonished and happy is expressing my state of mind mildly. Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the mysterious ointment. I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this mysterious ointment, now called Katalke, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist.

That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved. Many men and women, also children, have reported satisfactory results from Katalke.

How YOU May Grow YOUR Hair

My honest belief is that hair rarely falls out even when the hair falls out through dandruff, fever, excessive dryness or other disorders. I have been told by experts that often when hair falls out the roots become imbedded within the scalp, covered by hard skin, so that they remain for a time like bolts or seeds in a bottle which will grow when fertilized. Shampoos (which contain alkalis) and hair lotions which contain alcohol are enemies to the hair, as they dry it, making it brittle. Katalke contains these elements of nature which give new vitality to the scalp and hair.

KERENSKY MINISTER IS FORMING NEW ARMY

WARSAW, Sept. 2.—A new Russian volunteer army which is already assuming respectable proportions, is being formed by the Russian national committee founded in this city by Boris Savinkoff, Russian war minister, during the Kerensky regime, and M. Robitchev, social democratic leader in Russia. M. Savinkoff fought as a Polish volunteer during the battle waged along the banks of the Bug river against the Bolshevik forces which attempted to take Warsaw.

The committee's program comprises establishment in Russia of a republican-democratic regime, distribution of land among peasants and wide provincial autonomy.

Maurice Pate and Herschell Walker, members of the American relief organization here, have gone to Moscow from Minsk to confer with soviet officials regarding the care of children begun in white Russia during the Polish regime.

They went to Minsk with the Polish peace mission, but were made virtual prisoners, the same as the Poles. They encountered difficulties on every hand in convincing soviet authorities that they had no ulterior motives toward Russia.

The Bolsheviks admitted that more than 300,000 babies and young children were in danger of starving in white Russia. They wanted control of the distribution of supplies, and seemed to make the work a Russian affair.

NEGOTIATIONS BY POLISH AND SOUTH RUSSIAN FORCES GOING ON

WARSAW, Sept. 1.—Negotiations for joint operations by Polish and South Russian forces are going on between the government and General Baron Wrangel. Co-operation between the Poles and Ukrainians is declared to be a grave menace to the Bolsheviks, and it is said the latter have shown their appreciation of this by offering important concessions to Poland at the expense of Lithuania. These officers, it is asserted were made by soviet representatives at semi-official conferences with members of the Polish peace delegation while it was in Minsk.

MAHON RUSHES EAST TO DIRECT STRIKE—MUCH BITTERNESS—FEW SKIRMISHES

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The strike of Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co. employees which has seriously crippled service on the subway, elevated and surface lines in Brooklyn since last Sunday, appeared to have evolved today in a deadlock, with considerable bitterness in evidence between the strikers and 3000 strike breakers brought in by the company.

Following the refusal of the strikers yesterday to accept a proposal of Federal Judge Mayer, legal custodian of the lines in reciprocity to submit all but wage questions to arbitration, Mayor Hylan today was considering a counter proposal of the men that the company make an offer of a wage increase that would be acceptable to today.

Bolshevik Army Which Attempted to Encircle Lemberg Has Been Annihilated

SINN FEINERS IN DARING COUP

Raiding Party Invades Royal Air Force Headquarters Near Dublin

Carry Off Secret Military Documents, Including Army Code and Cipher

LONDON, Sept. 2.—A Sinn Fein raiding party invaded the Royal Air Force headquarters at Baldry, near Dublin, Saturday night, and carried off a large number of secret military documents, including the army code and cipher used at the present time, according to the Daily Mail. It is declared the coup was the most daring and important that has been attempted in Ireland since the present unrest in that island began.

First, the papers stolen, it is said, were orders relating to the joint operation of the army, navy, air force and the Royal Irish constabulary; the scheme of Irish defense plans, the details for lighting aerodromes for night frosts, and proposals for new development of the Royal Air Force in Ireland.

DEFEAT FOR BOLSHEVIKI

Routed Along Entire Center of Front—Flee in Disorder Before Poles

Thousands of Prisoners Captured—Russians Led Into Trap and Attacked

WARSAW, Sept. 2.—(By Associated Press)—The Bolshevik army of General Budenny, cavalry leader, has been annihilated in the Lemberg sector, says the Polish official statement issued today.

Isolated detachments escaped and are now in disorderly retreat.

Budenny's mounted men had been endeavoring to break through the Polish lines and march upon Lublin. They had virtually completed an encircling movement against Zamosc, midway between Lublin and Lemberg, but were outflanked by the Poles and attacked from the east. The soviet forces were defeated along the entire center of the front.

Promises Effort to Save Mayor of Cork in Response to Appeal From Walsh

Chairman of American Commission on Irish Independence Makes Plea

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Another appeal for official intervention to save the life of Lord Mayor Terrence MacSwiney of Cork was made yesterday by Frank P. Walsh. He acted in his capacity as chairman of the American commission on Irish independence. Representations were made both to the president and Secretary Colby and urged him to intervene either officially or personally with Premier Lloyd George. After the conference, Mr. Walsh quoted Mr. Colby as saying he recognized the difficulty of doing anything, "but nevertheless would endeavor to do something and do it quickly."

Mr. Walsh briefly argued before Secretary Colby for American intervention in MacSwiney's behalf, citing as precedents the representations made by this government during the Roosevelt administration to the Imperial Russian government against the Jewish pogroms.

2000 White and Negro Longshoremen in Fierce Battle—All Police Reserves Called Out

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—More than 2000 white and Negro longshoremen engaged in a pitched battle at Pier 50, North river, today which required police reserves from virtually all precincts along the waterfront, to quell. Traffic was suspended for an hour along West street.

A number of whites and Negroes were arrested as ringleaders of opposing forces after several wounded had been removed to hospitals.

The fight started when one thousand white longshoremen reported for their day's work at the Southern Pacific steamship pier and found 500 Negroes unloading a vessel.

Bad blood engendered, it was said, when Negroes were imported to break the recent longshoremen's strike, quickly led to blows. In the free for all which followed, freight hooks, clubs, stones and fists were used freely.

Attacks the Attempt to Pull Squeeze Play at Paris—Had Ball Waiting at Plate

MARION, Ohio, Sept. 2.—Putting his political creed into the vernacular of baseball, Senator Harding delivered a front porch speech today to the players of the Chicago National league club, appealing for better team work by the American nation "on the home grounds," under the rules.

Many issues, including the League of Nations, one man government and preparedness were touched on by Senator Harding in declaring his love for the great American game. The Cub players had come to Marion to play a special exhibition game late in the day as a personal compliment to the nominee.

In another speech delivered to a committee representing several associations of teachers, the senator said the low compensation of teachers had brought on "a crisis" in education, and pledged himself to do everything in his power to secure better pay for the professions. Both of the addresses were short, and the greater part of the day the candidate reserved for a conference with Senator Knox of Pennsylvania on the league issue.

Saluting the baseball players simply as "Cubs" Senator Harding plunged directly into his discourse on political issues as analogous to the problems of the diamond.

"I pay you," he said, "my tribute to baseball, because I like the game just like every other real American. It has been in the blood for over a half-century and it has helped us as a people. Of course there has been a vast improvement since the early game, but I am sure it is not reaching its peak."

Practically No Vacant Buildings Here—Build Own Home Only Solution

If you want a place to live in Lowell, the surest way, and in nine cases out of ten, the speediest way of getting it is to go out and build it.

That, in a measure, sums up the status of the local housing problem at the present time. A few real estate men are able to offer a variety of residential buildings for sale; others, admit that residential property is as scarce as it was last spring and summer. In either case, the general report is that there are practically no vacant buildings in Lowell.

COX WOULD NAME "DIRT FARMERS"

Advocates Their Appointment to Federal Reserve and Regional Board

Congratulates Farmers Upon "Ending Their Rip Van Winkle Sleep"

Addresses Representatives of National Board of Farm Organizations

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 2.—Governor Cox today declared that if elected president, he would appoint "dirt farmers" to responsible government positions, including the secretary of agriculture, members of the federal reserve board, tariff commission, and interstate commerce commission.

He made an address at the executive office to about 100 representatives of the national board of farm organizations, holding a convention here.

Federal regulation of cold storage facilities, a fair test of private railroad ownership and operation and cooperative buying and selling by farmers were advocated by Gov. Cox. He declared that business, labor and agricultural interests must have a common understanding.

Declaring himself to be a "farmer and not an agriculturist," he said he congratulated American farmers upon "ending their Rip Van Winkle sleep" and moving toward organized betterment of their condition.

"Farmers are not only entitled to larger representation in government," he said, "but the public service will have its efficiency advanced by larger representation of agricultural thought."

Advocating appointment of farmers to the federal reserve board and regional boards, he said:

"A great many interests do not look with favor on my election because they want to change the law by making bankers only eligible for membership. Nothing could be more menacing to the farmer to have his feet under the table when policies are being made."

With just enough tang in the air to keep participants and spectators on their toes, the annual closing exercises of the local playgrounds was held this afternoon on the South common and attracted its usual large attendance of relatives and friends of the boys and girls who have been playing and working for the past two months under expert direction.

The closing exercises were in the form of a pageant, showing the difference between organized and unorganized play, and was under the general direction of Mrs. Julian B. Keyes. Officials of the park department and members of the municipal council were among the spectators who watched the various events in which some 1500 children took part.

LOWELL FIREMEN TRIM SALEM TEAM

Eighteen to eight in favor of the Lowell players was the final score in the game between the Lowell fire department baseball team and the Salem fire fighters, which was played on the campus of the Lowell textile school in Moody street, Pawtucketville, this afternoon. The game was somewhat one-sided, but the Salem firemen took their defeat in good nature although they predicted that when the two teams clash in the Witch city in the near future the cards may be reversed.

The Salem players made the trip to Lowell in automobiles, arriving at the grounds shortly before noon. They were accompanied by Deputy Chief James Keon, Capt. Narvis, Capt. Flynn, Capt. Adams, Capt. Gagan and Lieut. Collins, all of the Salem department; William Hefferan, manager of the Salem polo team, and Thomas Bates, a well known citizen of the Witch city. Shortly after the arrival of the visiting team, James O'Brien, its manager, conferred with the manager of the Lowell aggregation and it was decided that the visitors would be first at bat and Thomas Bates of Salem and Walter Cunningham were chosen to act as umpires.

The lineups of both teams were as follows:

Lowell:—Regan, 2b; Mullin, p; Tighe, c; Simonds, 1b; Christie, 1b; Callahan, ss; O'Connor, 3b; Rogers, cf; Gary, rf; Wholey, Gorman and Crowe, all connected with the Lowell team, were on hand to fill vacancies as they may occur.

Salem:—Mackey, 1b; Burkinshaw, rf; Hennessy, c; Connors, cf; April, 1b; Furlong, 2b; Devitt, 3b and Collins, p.

At the close of the game the visitors were entertained at luncheon at the Chinese restaurant in Merrimack street. It was announced this afternoon that a week from today the Lowell team will cross bats with the Perry, N. H. fire department aggregation at Derry.

SUGAR BOWL RIOT AT ELLIS ISLAND

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—A sugar bowl riot broke out among the 1750 immigrants in the Ellis island dining room today when for the first time since the war, sugar, substituted for molasses, to sweeten coffee, was put on the tables. Several aliens were removed to hospitals, one of them with three fractured ribs.

Some of the hundreds had not seen sugar since the first months of the war. They immediately began poking their fingers into the bowls and smacking their lips.

General attacks were launched at a few who tried to pocket the bowls. Before the riot ended, all guards, waiters and kitchen employees had to be mobilized and rushed to the scene.

Individual sugar packages will be distributed at meals hereafter.

SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT STANDS, SAYS COLBY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The 19th amendment, giving women equal ballot rights with men, will stand despite the action of the Tennessee house in rescinding ratification, according to state department officials and other legal experts. It is held that the withdrawal of approval after the proclamation making the new law of the land operative is without effect.

The position was taken by Sec. Colby yesterday that the proclamation cannot be affected except by court decisions on the question as to whether or not the legislature of Tennessee actually ratified the amendment. There is a precedent for the attitude assumed by Secretary Colby.

The 15th amendment to the United States constitution was ratified by the New York legislature April 14, 1869, but January 5, 1870, the legislature passed a resolution withdrawing its assent. However, March 30, 1870, the secretary of state issued a proclamation declaring that this amendment had been ratified by the necessary number of states, including New York.

The national women's party announced yesterday afternoon that no efforts will be made to obtain ratification by a 34th state.

The suit brought by the anti-suffragists to restrain Secretary Colby from issuing his proclamation of ratification was withdrawn yesterday. The suit was brought by Charles H. Fairchild of New York. His counsel said Mr. Fairchild was convinced that a suit brought before the necessary number of states had ratified the amendment raised all the points necessary.

This suit is now before the court of appeals. It was stated that this case would be asked to refer this case to the United States supreme court to hasten a decision.

Refuses to Give Age

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 2.—Declining to give her age, Mrs. F. Ernest Holman of this city was refused registration here yesterday at the first session of the board. She seeks to make this a test case in court. She says that it is for the benefit of working girls, as many with whom she has talked are unwilling to register because the board requires applicants to give their exact age. Profrudence on the part of employers against women who attain or exceed the age of 10, she explains, causes many clerks to balk at registering when otherwise they would feel free to do so. She insists that any woman who is 21 or over, is entitled to register upon taking oath that she is of legal voting age.

Harry E. Nixon, a lawyer, and Fred E. Jordan, candidate for the legislature, accompanied Mrs. Holman, long active in behalf of equal suffrage. They will apply to the courts for a writ of mandamus compelling the board to enter her name on the lists. The action is all in friendly spirit.

With the removal by the legislature Tuesday of restrictions and the adoption of provisions making it easier for women to register, the work of enrolling the women of Maine for the state election on Sept. 13 and the presidential election began in earnest.

LOWELL PEOPLE INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE COLLISION NEAR WORCESTER YESTERDAY

As a result of an automobile collision, which occurred at Cherry Valley Hill, near Worcester, yesterday afternoon Dr. John de la Parra, of 1242 Middlesex street, this city, is suffering from contusions of the chest, while his wife has a broken rib. The accident occurred on a stretch of rough road when the de la Parra machine was crashed into by an automobile truck. After receiving first aid in Worcester Dr. and Mrs. de la Parra completed their trip to Lowell by train. The two machines that figured in the smash-up were badly damaged.

which was left at the White House, follows:

"Hon. Terrence MacSwiney, democratically elected mayor of one of Ireland's largest and most important municipalities, is confined in the Brixton jail in England for the commission of acts which are held by the free peoples of the world to be not only innocent but praiseworthy.

"He is dying of starvation and his attending physicians assert that, unless immediately released, his death will come within the next 12 hours.

"I have been requested by the organizations of American citizens of Irish blood, numbering millions in membership and sympathetic affiliation, to appeal to you to use your good offices to save his life. "If you could see your way clear to make direct official or personal appeal to Mr. Lloyd George we feel sure that this tragedy would be averted.

"We therefore beg of you to make this direct appeal, either officially or in the name of our common humanity."

Appeals to Be Ignored

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Appeals in behalf of Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, who is in a critical condition at Brixton prison, as a result of a hunger strike, will not be recognized by the British government, Sir Hamar

Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, intimated in an interview with the correspondent of the London Times at Lucerne today. He also indicated the government would unwaveringly adhere to its policy.

"None of the mercy which some seek to invoke for the lord mayor," said the chief secretary, "was shown the 80 policemen who have lost their lives in Ireland.

"The present lawlessness in Ireland is the work of a small body of men who are striving by carefully planned anarchy to impose secession from the British empire on 80 per cent. of the people of Ireland who do not want to secede."

Sir Hamar declared that if the Sinn Fein had been willing to accept anything less than complete Irish independence, Premier Lloyd George's proposal to meet Irish leaders would not have remained unanswered. He reiterated the government was willing to grant Ireland any form of government acceptable to the majority of the people, so long as the rights of the empire should be employed to prevent secession in Ireland.

Premier Lloyd George, the correspondent says, will return to London early next week, and will not attend the meeting of Premiers Millerand and Giolitti which was fixed for Sept. 11. He adds that Lord Feisal, who was elected king of Syria and who at present is in Rome, is not going to Switzerland, having failed to arrange a meeting with the premier.

FM. VAUGHN'S VIEWS ON ADMIN.

ISTERING LAST SACRAMENT TO HUNGER STRIKERS

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The question has been widely discussed here recently as to whether it is justifiable to give the last sacrament to hunger strikers. It is maintained by many persons that to all intents, such strikers are committing suicide. Father Bernard Vaughn, who is famous for his sermons and writings, yesterday made the following statement on the subject:

"Personally, from my reading of theology, moral and dogmatic, I should not feel entitled to administer the rites of the church to any one, no matter what his nationality, who was deliberately dying through a hunger strike. But I am free to admit that other theologians, far more learned than I am, would reverse my verdict on the subject.

"Some moralists there are who deny that hunger striking cannot be justified, others have drawn a distinction between objective truths and subjective errors. But as you are asking for my personal view of the subject, I give it for what it is worth, without comment upon any one who may differ from me."

ELEVEN POSTAL CLERKS REMOVED BY BURLISON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Postmaster Gen. Burlison yesterday ordered the removal of 11 clerks in the Chicago postoffice for soliciting or causing to be solicited sums of money from the public, and for publishing or causing to be published, false and slanderous statements relative to the postal service.

Evidence obtained by postoffice inspectors, Mr. Burlison said, showed that the Chicago postoffice clerks' union attempted to solicit contributions of $1000 each from a number of business men "who were patrons of the Chicago postoffice."

The postmaster general said such practices were in violation of a warning given by the postoffice department in 1918 and consequently the removal was ordered "in conformity with the notice promulgated at that time."

The postmaster general made public the report of postoffice inspectors, which says:

"The advertising campaign carried on by the Chicago postoffice clerks' union has been misleading to the public, uncalled-for and reprehensible and was continued or renewed both in their meetings and in the public press after we had interviewed them and expressed our opinion fully to them in regard to the matter. We believe their conduct in this respect fully justified removal, but in the matter of soliciting contributions from the public there is undeniable evidence of distinct and flagrant violations of Section 171 of the Postal Laws and Regulations which have not been satisfactorily responded to and cannot be condoned."

CLOSING OF HOWARD STREET PLAYGROUND

Fully three hundred men, women and children witnessed the closing of the Howard street playground season last night which was marked by the presentation of a pageant in which half a hundred children took part under the direction of Miss Anna Perlman, leader, and an efficient committee of assistants. Just on the crest of the hill in Howard st. in front of the Hebrew school was laid the scene of the exercises. During the early part of the evening it was difficult to keep the children who lined the streets as spectators, from surging upon the "stage," but with the assistance rendered by a few civilians, ropes were stretched on four sides to keep the crowd back.

The exercises consisted of group and solo dancing and singing by little girls and special dancing features by Manuel Dias, Miss Perlman, who has been in charge of the Howard street playground since its opening, was given great credit for her work during the season and also for the excellent showing the children made last evening.

The costumes for the participants were prettily made of crepe paper. Playground assistants cut out the patterns and the little ones did their own sewing.

The playground children have been divided into two sections, according to age. The program opened up with the "Mountain March" by Section A which was followed by a solo dance by Gladys Latham. Section B then entertained with the "Shoemakers' dance" and Monica Coseta, Nellie Coseta, Gladys Latham, Dorothy Pickles, Agnes Mellen, Lillian Bean and Esther Green performed in an Irish lil number. Manuel Dias, who proved as much an athlete as a dancer, gave a Spanish dance and a Chinese dance as an encore. "There Was a Little Girl" was then danced by Section B and after a solo dance by Dorothy Pickles all the children sang the National Anthem.

At the close of the exercises Miss Anna Perlman, the director, distributed candy which was furnished through the kindness of Charles Mulkegan, proprietor of a variety store at the corner of Grand and Chalmers streets.

The director has been assisted by Miss Emma Perlman, Miss Rosa Brown and Miss Beatrice Malkiel.

BILLERICA SCHOOLS

A Friend Worth Knowing

We make many acquaintances, some of which develop into friendship, but not all prove themselves true friends. It is just as essential that we have a reliable friend in the form of a medicine as a personal friend, so that when we are afflicted with various ailments we can have something we can absolutely depend upon.

The next time you have any stomach, liver or kidney trouble, and you are not already acquainted with the wonderful merits of SEVEN BARKS, nature's remedy of roots and herbs, we urge you to give it a trial, and we will predict that it will become one of your most valuable friends from a medical standpoint.

For nearly half a century SEVEN BARKS has been a valuable and timely friend to all sufferers of stomach and liver disorders. A trial will quickly prove its wonder efficiency, and after that you will never be without it, and gladly recommend it to your friends.

Doctor's bills these days run into money fast, and can often be saved if you will but keep on hand a bottle of SEVEN BARKS, the old-fashioned remedy that our parents and grandparents used to keep their families rugged and well.

If you want a friend that will stand by you in time of need, ask your druggist for SEVEN BARKS. Price but 50 cents per bottle, enough to last a long time.—Adv.

LODGE DEFENDS HIS ACTION ON PEACE

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 2.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, speaking here yesterday before the Merrimack County Republican club, accused the democratic party of "unlimited misrepresentation of well known facts," in its platform reference to alleged inconsistencies in his attitude on the making of peace with Germany.

"I am charged with inconsistency," said Senator Lodge, "because in an address I disapproved of deserting our allies and making a separate peace in the midst of the war and yet was willing to make a separate peace with Germany two years and a half after that speech was made and when all our allies had left us and had themselves made peace with Germany. I was right on both occasions and entirely consistent." The senator added that what was important was not the question of his personal consistency, but that one of the two great parties should have begun the campaign with misrepresentation.

Attacked in Democratic Platform

Senator Lodge explained that he was led to make this personal reference to himself because the situation was unusual and he had refrained heretofore from discussing it until he could do so in a speech. "I think I am safe in saying," he continued, "that never before has the declaration of principles of a great national party carried an attack on any individual member of the opposite party. But the democrats at San Francisco selected me by name for a subject of attack in an effort apparently to prove that I had been inconsistent. I do not, you observe, say that I was honored by an attack in the democratic platform because I fear that if I had used that expression the irony might have been misunderstood. What they did I confess amused me and also gave me a cheerful feeling that such efforts as I had made to save the country from what I believed would be both a great wrong and a great disaster, had counted.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

MR. BUMBLE RETURNS

Mr. and Mrs. Bumble-Bee, in their home under the ground, wrap their bibles in the softest of blankets. Like some of the clover little bird-builders, they search for things to weave with, hair, bits of string, and downy tufts that have dropped from Davy Duck or Goosey Gander on their way to the Lily pond. The softest, fuzziest blankets they weave, it makes you sleepy to look at them!

But there are times that you want blankets and times that you don't, and when Mr. Bumble put three of them just where Nancy and Nick and Mr. Tingaling, the fairyman landlord, were sure to step, it was certainly at the very worst time, for they were covered with honey, having stumbled in the overturned honey-pots (which also was part of Mr. Bumble's work.)

There's another thing about the blankets in Mr. and Mrs. Bumble's house. They don't stick together like other blankets do; because bee babies peared in the Forum Magazine of December 1918 in which I had denounced any attempt on the part of the United States to make a separate peace with Germany at that time. On the publication of this statement in this democratic platform many of the leading newspapers of the country immediately pointed out that the article in question was not published in the Forum of December, 1918, but appeared in the Forum of June, 1918—that is, appeared while the war was at its height and before the great advance which resulted in victory.

"What they did exactly was this: They quoted from what they called an article of mine which they said appeared in the Forum Magazine of December 1918 in which I had denounced any attempt on the part of the United States to make a separate peace with Germany at that time. Shame on Them.

PERHAPS there are a few mothers who do not know the virtues of Fletcher's Castoria. Perhaps there are a few who know that there are imitations on the market, and knowing this demand Fletcher's. It is to ALL motherhood then that we call attention to the numerous imitations and counterfeits that may be set before them.

It is to all motherhood everywhere that we ring out the warning to beware of the "Just-as-good". For over thirty years Fletcher's Castoria has been an aid in the upbuilding of our population; an aid in the saving of babies.

And yet there are those who would ask you to try something new. Try this. Try that. Even try the same remedy for the tiny, scarcely breathing, babe that you in all your robust womanhood would use for yourself. Shame on them.

Children Cry For

Fletcher's CASTORIA

Your Friend, the Physician.

The history of all medicines carries with it the story of battles against popular beliefs: fights against prejudice: even differences of opinion among scientists and men devoting their lives to research work; laboring always for the betterment of mankind. This information is at the hand of all physicians. He is with you at a moment's call be the trouble trifling or great. He is your friend, your household counselor. He is the one to whom you can always look for advice even though it might not be a case of sickness. He is not just a doctor. He is a student to his last and final call. His patients are his family and to lose one is little less than losing one of his own flesh and blood.

Believe him when he tells you—as he will—that Fletcher's Castoria has never harmed the slightest babe, and that it is a good thing to keep in the house. He knows.

PROUD OF IT!

Who wouldn't be proud of ice cream made with Eagle Brand? It has a smoothness, a delicious new flavor that you can't get any other way. Kiddies love Eagle Brand ice cream and it's good for them, too. Eagle Brand is just pure, wholesome milk and sugar—use it in the desserts children like best. The following for instance:

BORDEN'S FRENCH ICE CREAM

1½ cups Borden's Eagle Brand Condensed Milk	2 eggs
1½ cups hot water	Speck of salt
1 tablespoonful cornstarch	1 tablespoonful vanilla

Heat the milk and water in a double boiler. Combine with the cornstarch made smooth with a little cold water. Stir till it thickens and cook over water at least 15 minutes. Add the salt to the eggs, which should be slightly beaten. Pour the thickened milk slowly onto the eggs, return to the double boiler and cook 1 minute, stirring constantly. Cool. Add the vanilla. Freeze. Ice cream should be packed after freezing, and stand at least 2 hours to ripen before using. One egg may be omitted and another tablespoonful cornstarch used instead.

Send for our book of recipes.

FULLER ASSAULTS WARNER

Hot Political Fights on—
County Commissioner and
Counsellor Contests

"It is a contemptible falsehood," was the reply of Joseph E. Warner, speaker of the house of representatives and candidate for lieutenant governor to Congressman Alvan T. Fuller, who charged Warner with using his public office as speaker to further his private interests.

Fuller charged that Warner's law partner employed by a Fall River cotton corporation appeared before a committee appointed by Speaker Warner to swing certain child labor legislation more to the taste of the mill owners. On this engagement Fuller claims that Warner reaped private gain from his public office but this is denied by Mr. Warner. Anyhow the bill favored by the mill company was rejected.

Fuller has this to say: "Meanwhile I should like to ask you if you, as speaker of the house, did not exercise the influence of your office to produce the appointment of the large recess committee of 61 at an expense of over $70,000 to the taxpayers of Massachusetts. The avowed purpose of this committee, I understand, was to review the work of a small committee of lawyers, presumably all experts, who were appointed and who have been working for two or three years on the revision of the statutes of Massachusetts, but whose work I understand is not yet ready for review and that, therefore, the extent of the work done by this large and luxurious committee of 61 has been to convene, organize into small committees for what little work there is or will be to do, draw their extra salaries of $1000 each, plus expenses, and adjourn for ten weeks. Do you think the taxpayers should be called upon to pay for the handling out of plums of this sort and why did you use your influence to pass them out?"

This is a legitimate matter for the voters to consider and it is one which if as represented shows Mr. Warner in a rather unfavorable light. The controversy between the two candidates shows the necessity of selecting a good, clean and capable democratic candidate for the office of lieutenant governor.

County Commissioner Contest

Walter C. Wardwell, former mayor of Cambridge, and at present county commissioner, was a visitor in Lowell recently, presumably looking over the political situation. Mr. Wardwell is probably the most popular candidate on the state ticket. He is a republican it is true, but in his own city, Cambridge, he has not an enemy in any political party. He was appointed county commissioner on the death of Levi Gould and was elected in 1917 so that his three year term will expire in 1921. During his service as county commissioner, he has increased his popularity, having made friends all over the county. He has been connected with county government on and off for 25 years, having served as court officer and deputy sheriff before becoming mayor of Cambridge. He is a strong advocate of good roads and stood by Commissioner Barlow in favoring the First street boulevard plan. He will also favor the new plan when the time comes for the county to do its part of the work or appropriate funds to meet its share of the expense. Commissioner Alfred L. Cutting of Weston is a candidate this year although his term does not expire until 1922; but owing to the biennial election law, there will be no election in 1921.

Arthur C. Colburn of Braintree is a candidate for county commissioner again this year. He was a candidate against Mr. Barlow last year and received only 7700 votes to 5500 for Smith J. Adams and 17,000 for Erson B. Barlow.

It does not look as if Mr. Colburn will have much chance of greater success this year. About two-thirds of the county vote is in the cities and one-third in the towns. Wardwell is popular in the towns as well as in the cities and Cutting has a large following which it will be difficult to overcome.

The Counsellor Fight

The counsellor fight is waxing warm on the republican side with Charles

FAINTING AND
DIZZY SPELLS

The Cause of such Symptoms
and Remedy Told in This Letter.

Syracuse, N. Y.—"When I commenced the Change of Life I was poorly, had no appetite and had fainting spells. I suffered for two or three years before I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the Liver Pills, which I saw advertised in the papers and in your little books. I took about twelve bottles of your Vegetable Compound and found it a wonderful remedy. I commenced to pick up at once and my suffering was relieved. I have told others about your medicine and know of some who have taken it. I am glad to help others all I can."

Mrs. E. F. DRAKE, 437 W. Lafayette Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Moreover this reliable remedy contains no narcotics or harmful drugs and owes its efficiency to the medicinal extracts of the native roots and herbs which it contains.

Summer Smith of Lincoln apparently is the lead. The fact that he has been a town officer for 21 years and member of the senate for three years, indicates that he has the confidence of republican voters. Smith J. Adams of this city is making an active canvass and is likely to run well. He would make a good commissioner. Fred Lewis, an ex-member of the legislature, is also a candidate. Ex-Senator Eames, who was defeated last year for reelection is a candidate for counsellor and is making an active canvass. Another candidate from Medford has been heard of, but some say he has withdrawn. If he is still in the fight, he appears to be out to win the lowest place on the ballot when the voters are counted.

BACK PAY FOR CAR
SHOP WORKERS

Back pay for the entire month of May, last, for those who were employees of the Boston and Maine railroad general repair shops in Billerica at that time, in accordance with the last decree of the railway wage decision board, was delivered this forenoon. The back pay was given to workers of both the shop and clerical forces. In most instances the back pay was figured upon a net increase of 12 cents per hour, although in some cases it went as low as 10 cents per hour. Three months' back pay is still due the employees.

Defeat For Bolsheviki

and they had to retreat in disorder with the Poles in close pursuit.

Russians Led Into Trap

The Bolsheviki lost heavily in killed and wounded, the Poles capturing thousands of prisoners, 16 guns and enormous quantities of material.

The fighting centered in the Zamosc region. There were numerous cavalry clashes with the infantry filling in the gaps and attacking all along the line simultaneously. The operations were carried out in accordance with the Polish plan which led the Russians into traps where they were attacked from all sides.

The communistic reports successes along the entire center and southern fronts.

Germans Not to Join

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—(By Associated Press).—Dr. Walter Simons, the foreign minister, addressing the Reichstag foreign affairs committee today declared he had been urged to collaborate with the Russian Bolsheviki against the western powers as a means of breaking the bonds imposed by the treaty of Versailles, but that after mature reflection he had rejected this course.

"If we had followed these exhortations," said the foreign minister, "Germany would immediately have become a theatre of war. Furthermore, the disastrous consequences which Bolshevism might be expected to bring with it would have fallen with double force upon Germany."

Dr. Simons said proposals also had been made that Germany co-operate with the western powers against Russia, which he considered an equally impossible course.

"No power at war with soviet Russia," he added, "need count upon our support."

Admit Soviet Retirement

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The Russian soviet forces endeavoring to encircle Lemberg have retired to the eastward under Polish pressure says the soviet official statement of Wednesday received today by wireless. Some successes for the soviet troops are reported on the centre of the fighting front. "In the Berestay and Crikhov regions (in the Crimea) we are engaged with the enemy who is offering fierce resistance," the statement adds.

New Wage Scale For Naval Employees

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Unanimous recommendations of the navy yard wage board for a new wage schedule to affect about 75,000 employees will be laid before Secretary Daniels today. Mr. Daniels said he would endeavor to act on the new schedule within two days.

EDMONTON, Alberta, Sept. 2.—Establishment within the year of a common council at London on which British dominions would be represented by resident ministers was predicted by Viscount Barnham of the imperial press conference delegation touring Canada, in a speech here today.

Cost of Federal Guarantee to Railroads

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Federal guarantee of railroad earnings resulted in an increase in the public debt of $101,755,600 during August, according to treasury figures issued today showing the nation's gross debt to be $24,324,672.

TELEPHONE ALARMS

Rubbish fires were responsible for two telephone alarms today, the first at 11:19 o'clock in the cellar of the house numbered 33 Mt. Grove street and the other at 12:10 o'clock in the rear of the Hapshaw plant in Warren street. No damage.

Specimen Ballots

difference in the color of the ballots for men and women voters. The specimen ballots, as usual, are white with no distinction between those to be given male and female voters. The regular ballots to be used Tuesday will undoubtedly be of another color.

The name of William Salmon, a candidate for representative in the 15th Middlesex district, does not appear on the ballot despite the fact that Mr. Salmon filed his nomination papers in due time at the office of the election commission and the papers were forwarded to the secretary of the commonwealth. Inasmuch as his name does not appear on the ballot, Mr. Salmon's only opportunity to receive votes will be by the sticker method. Another item of local interest made known by the arrival of the ballots is the fact that Mayor Bernard J. Golden of Woburn will oppose Congressman John Jacob Rogers of this city for a seat in the national house. Congressman Rogers has had the fifth congressional district field practically to himself for a number of years, but this year Mayor Golden will be his democratic opponent.

There had been some question as to whether Mayor Golden's name would appear on the ballot at the primaries owing to the fact that it was not included in a list purporting to come from the office of the secretary of state immediately after the expiration of time for filing nomination papers. Mayor Golden's papers were circulated by friends and he himself did not know whether they had obtained sufficient signatures to make him a candidate. He is sure of nomination as there is no other democratic aspirant.

BELIEVED TO HAVE COUSIN

HERE

Notification was received at the police station last night from the police of Salem that one John Hogan, said to have a cousin by the name of James Conners in this city, was killed in Lynn yesterday and that the body would be buried Friday morning from 81 Linden street, Lynn. The telephone message gave Conners' address as Pleasant street, but the James Conners at that place claims that he has no cousin by the name of Hogan. Conners has not yet been located, but the police are of the opinion that he lives in some other section of the city.

COURSES IN ELOCUTION

According to the latest reports from the high school authorities, certification in elocution will now be required of all students making application for entrance to college after completing their high school courses. By a new ruling adopted by many of the colleges in this section of the country certification by an elocution teacher or passing of required examination in elocution is necessary for entrance. Beginning with the opening of the local high school this month, elocution courses will therefore be under such standards. Miss Mary Joyce is already at work planning a new system of courses in elocution which will require the introduction of a new set of instruction books.

WOMEN ELECTION OFFICIALS

It is doubtful if we fully realize the extent of the political change that has flashed upon this country. If women are to embrace the opportunity now offered them to exercise the franchise, our polling places should be nearly twice as large as they are and every item based upon numbers almost doubled—provided the women register.

The election officers, all men, have been chosen, but the women will want to have a finger in the pie; although as yet they have not been considered. Are we not to have female election inspectors and will the men sit down as usual after the polls close to count the ballots without a woman to check up their totals? Occasionally the atmosphere of the polling booth has been made dense with the fumes of tobacco smoke, but now all this will be stopped and no gentleman will so demean himself as to smoke in the presence of ladies. The powder puff will not be barred, however.

The counting of ballots is a task that the men have always abhorred, so that they will undoubtedly be willing that it shall be done largely by the new class of voters. The count begins immediately after the polls close and sometimes lasts till the middle of the following forenoon, although usually finished sometime about daybreak. During these dreary hours, the election officers of opposing parties have to watch each other, lest an effort should be made to juggle the figures so as to count in the candidate of one party and count out those of another. It is true, that election officers are under a solemn obligation to be fair; but in the excitement of political contests, it has been found that some partisans think only of pulling through the candidates of their choice.

Nothing of that kind has ever happened in Lowell, of course, although nobody can guarantee that all future election officers will be strictly fair as between the parties. It is on these counting committees that women can render valuable service. As a rule they are better at figures than men and as between a woman who can count and a man who can't, why not give the former a chance to earn ten dollars a day or whatever the service pays? We have heard a prediction that the mingling of men and women in these political activities will convert a great many misogynists who have always avoided the presence of women, and cause men to get married, who would otherwise never yield to the influence of feminine charms.

We surmise, therefore, that great opportunities of happy matrimonial unions will be opened up to spinsters, who, under the old system of having the men do all political work, would never have a chance of marriage. Thus, it appears, that even if the present list of election officers must be revised, there should be sufficient representation of the women voters employed at the polls and to help in supervising the counting of ballots.

OUR VANISHING FORESTS

With the demand for wood pulp for paper so pressing and the price of lumber for building purposes higher than ever before, there is certainly good reason for giving more attention than ever to the important work of reforestation wherever the natural forests have been cleared away. All that is necessary, is to co-operate with Nature in restoring the noble forests that have fallen before the axe of the wood chopper.

Each generation owes it to posterity to leave the natural woods and the sylvan grandeur that clothes the land as abundant and luxuriant as it found them. We fear that the present generation is not doing its duty in this respect.

Ten years ago the United States produced two-thirds of its pulp wood, but now two-thirds of it is imported. So fast has the change come about, that not more than one-third of the newspapers issued in this country last year were printed on the product of American forests.

Yet there is ample waste land available for the growth of new trees. Indeed, in the vast majority of cases, the land from which the lumber was cut down is vacant and now covered merely with brush. It is time the American people realized that the growth of forests brings a liberal financial return. Most people feel that the time required for such returns from a crop of trees, is too long to offer any inducement to the land owner. That is true only if a long time be allowed to elapse between the cutting down of full grown trees and the planting of new. Properly owned, in a great number of cases, leave the lumber land idle for years after clearing it of trees. It is this error that has caused the scarcity of wood pulp. Lumber dealers seek only the supply, and care nothing for the utilization of the cut-over area for the growth of new forests.

It is to overcome this national evil that the American Forestry association is using its efforts throughout the country. It should be liberally backed by the government and its appeals should be heeded by every properly owner who has waste land suitable for the growth of timber.

Waste land "is a loafer" because it is taxed and will produce nothing unless properly utilized. To meet this national need and to do our duty to this and future generations, we should plant at least as many trees as we cut down; and we should do the planting as soon as possible after felling the noble trees that Nature has been nurturing for our use in her primeval forests.

We are face to face with a timber famine and a wood pulp famine; and we can find no proper substitutes for wood pulp or for wooden ties and many other industrial essentials supplied by wood. The woodman's axe and the ravages of fire have removed forests that Nature, unaided, cannot replace in fifty years. The fine forests of the south are said to be fast disappearing, while those of the western coast are also falling before the unprecedented demand; so that nothing short of a firm government policy to promote reforestation can save the country from a continuation of the present scarcity of lumber and wood pulp.

"One trouble with Cox's denunciation of the republican campaign fund is that Mr. Cox, as a sensible man and one experienced in politics, cannot very well believe a word of his own diatribes. He knows as well as the next man that the presidency cannot be bought. He hasn't the faintest idea that there will be any attempt to buy it."—Courier Citizen.

Yes, Mr. Cox is a sensible man and he believes what he says when he charges that there is a move on in the republican party to buy the presidency. By that he means that the vote of certain doubtful states that would not otherwise go republican, is to be turned over to the republican party by the lavish use of money, just as the vote for Senator Newberry in Michigan was rolled up to proportions that it could never have reached but for the boodle campaign. The movement to purchase the presidency was started in support of General Wood's candidacy, but the corrupt methods having been exposed, he had to retire rather than enter the contest under the stigma of being the tool of the money power of the country. If Governor Cox prevents that influence from being exerted in behalf of Senator Harding, or any other candidate, he will have rendered a patriotic service to the nation.

WOOLEN MILLS REOPEN

The operatives of the American Woollen company, numbering in the neighborhood of 40,000, have had a long spell of idleness; and they might feel differently about it, if they believed it was necessary or due to business depression. The American Woollen company has 54 mills and when all shut down, their idleness must necessarily operate to keep up the price of cloth, which we are cautioned is "not wearing apparel." But anybody or any company that keeps up the materials from which clothing is made, helps to keep up the cost of wearing apparel. It would be well if some government agency investigated the causes of this long shutdown in order to ascertain whether its object was as stated by the company or to maintain the high price of cloth against tendencies calculated to force a reduction.

It looks as if Carson's long threatened war has been started in Ulster. Already all Catholic residents have been driven from Lisburn and several thousand from Belfast while their homes and business places have been given to the flames or otherwise destroyed. Incidental to this crusade by Carson's followers, over 20 have been killed and 200 wounded by bullets. The victims are chiefly nationalists, who were shot either by the unionists or the troops, while offering resistance to the attacks made upon them or while fleeing from their burning homes.

The picture of Lord Mayor McSwiney, of Cork, shows him to be young and good looking; in facial expression somewhat resembling Robert Emmet before the shadow of the gallows put the fierce look of rage and defiance into that hero's countenance. The lord mayor's picture was taken, of course, before he entered a British dungeon. It is to be hoped that he will survive to battle for the cause through the stormy stages of its final settlement.

Treasurer Upham of the Republican national committee declares that he never saw the pamphlet from which Gov. Cox quoted and which was designated as a republican bulletin on campaign funds. It is now up to Gov. Cox or some of his informants to show that the bulletin was issued from republican sources. Treasurer Upham may not have seen it and yet it may have been issued by one of his sub-committees, that "campaign drive committee" for example.

The devotion of the men of the Yankee division for General Edwards is a proof of his able leadership and their loyalty to authority wisely applied. The farewell demonstration in honor of the general on his departure from Boston, has rarely been equalled in expressions of real affection and esteem. So far as the outside public can learn, General Edwards is entirely worthy of the encomiums showered upon him.

Some republicans are now arguing that $15,000,000, the figures mentioned by Gov. Cox, is not more than half the amount needed to carry the election. They cite the fact that it cost $60,000 to send an unsealed letter to every voter in New York state. Perhaps Gov. Cox has done the republicans the injustice of understating the amount of the fund to be raised by their campaign committees.

At last the republicans have picked out James Jackson of Dedham to run for state treasurer in opposition to Fred J. Burrell, the present incumbent. It remains for the democrats to select a candidate who will command support from both sides. Jackson's only claim to support is his identification with the Red Cross organization.

We would respectfully suggest that Franklin D. Roosevelt and Governor Coolidge, the two vice presidential candidates, speak from the same platform at a public meeting in some large city outside the two states to which they respectively belong. In that way, people could judge of the comparative merits of the two candidates.

If Gov. Cox comes to Lowell, he will get a rousing welcome and men and women of all parties will go to hear him discuss the issues of the campaign. In case he can come here, Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan will doubtless arrange to give him a fitting reception or else have the event assume organized form.

James Jackson, the hand picked republican candidate for state treasurer, is somewhat deaf, a defect which may save him from hearing many of the unpleasant things said of the man he aspires to succeed, if not of himself.

Poland makes a mistake in attacking Lithuania. These two new republics should have formed an alliance for their mutual benefit rather than engage in destructive warfare which may ultimately result in the destruction of both.

The soviet government of Russia can no longer be trusted to deal honorably with any nation. The treatment of the Polish peace delegation has been disgracefully hypocritical, deceitful and treacherous.

If all the experts, who are sure they could run a newspaper better than the editors, were to get into the business, what a lot of other occupations would be deserted.

The Pilgrim fathers had their troubles, but they were not high prices, profiteers, Ponzi, lack of houses or threatened coal shortages.

"Liars are the cause of all the sins and crimes in the world."

Maybe Trotsky will show his comrades how to trot back toward Warsaw.

Politicians used to have their ears to the ground; now they have their eyes on the check book.

Theatrical people complain that some companies can't travel now because of the increased railroad rates. That'll be a relief.

While they war about campaign subscriptions, the politicians should not forget that the fundamental of a campaign is the fund.

When asked what he did with his shoes when he wore them out, John Cotter answered that he wore them back in the house again.

THE SUCKER CROP

A writer for the Newspaper Enterprise association with which The Sun is connected allows that Barnum died too early. He says that had he lived till today, he'd have, without doubt, revised his much-quoted statement to read: "There's a sucker born every second." America's bumper crop this season, to judge by every report, is suckers. Fishing was never so good. A conservative and reliable banker declared the other day that, since the end of the war, three or four billions of dollars have been invested in new businesses—and most of it has been lost for the investors.

Get-rich-quick schemes, despite recent incidents such as the Ponzi case and in the face of repeated exposures, are flourishing with unprecedented vigor. Oil, rubber, autos, foreign exchange and a dozen other games are claiming their thousands of victims. Roger Babson, noted financial writer, pointed out the situation in a convincing manner the other day, when he wrote that money is like work; that the man who draws a big bigger salary than his job his worth is in danger of losing both the salary and the job, and that the man who expects a big bigger interest return than his money is worth is likely to lose the profits and the principal. There is a world of safe investment offered today with fair profits in return. No false investment can ever offer the tremendous profits pictured by the prospectus writers for wild-cat promoters. To the man who is puzzled to tell which class of investments to make, here is an excellent recipe, given by a banker to a widow who asked his advice on investing some money in a brightly painted oil scheme: Madam, if you have enough money so you can take a chance with it and not suffer if you lose it, buy the oil stock. But if you need the money; if you can't afford to lose it; don't buy."

COMPARISONS

(Copyright 1920, N. F. A.) "Look!" said the fire-fly, disclosing his spark. "I am so brilliant I shine in the dark. Surely I'm more than a commonplace star. Stick away off in the heavens afar. For I come to brighten you right where you are."

"Really, I feel that I'm highly commendable. As for the moon, why it isn't dependable. It's thin as a sickle, or round as a ball. It's shaved or it's quartered, or black as a pall. But is my light so frivolous? No, not at all."

"And the sun is a joke. It has never been succeeded. In shining one particle when it is needed. Indeed, it's a matter of common remark. You never can see it a bit in the dark. But I'll tell you just look at me; that's my spark."

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Decatur street, the narrowest and one of the most dangerous thoroughfares in the city, is being surfaced by employees of the street department, and those who have occasion to travel through the narrow street are very much pleased with the improvement, but they would delight in seeing the thoroughfare made a one-way street by the city council. The danger to which vehicles are daily exposed has been pointed out to the city fathers on various occasions and petitions have been presented asking that the street be widened, but the petitions in every instance have been pigeon-holed. Those interested feel that the widening of the street at this time would be too expensive and say this could go over to a time when such an undertaking would not mean the expense of hundreds of thousands of dollars, but they believe public convenience and necessity demand that this be made a one-way street.

Several well known Lowell men recently met "Bill" Keleher, former basketball player and fight referee of this city, but now of New York, down in Maine and they report that he was more than glad to meet friends from his boyhood town. Mr. Keleher, a bonair, affable and delightfully entertaining as of yore, has been away from Lowell for about 18 years, and when the Lowell men got him started, he regaled them with many an interesting sidelight on his basketball experience with the old Burkes and later with Portsmouth and other New England teams. It was he who refereed the boxing bout a number of years ago which later resulted in the death of John Dlon, one of the principals, and he rehearsed that unfortunate incident saying that he regretted it as much as anything in his whole athletic career. When he was engaged by Princeton to coach its varsity basketball team, Mr. Keleher had his eye on the inter-collegiate championship and had not a call to the business world lured him away. Sporting writers at that time averred that his outfit would have landed the title for the college over which President Wilson once presided. It is some time since he has glided over a floor in a basketball game. For several years he has been in the automobile business in Connecticut and New York and with characteristic ability has achieved distinction as an expert in his line.

How would you like to see seven, big, healthy moose taking breakfast on their knees in a grateful field? Reckon you would go a good many miles to see them. But we met a New Brunswick farmer a week or ten days ago who didn't have to go far to see them and the sight did not please him the least bit, for it was his grain that the big hungry fellows were devouring. And that wasn't his only objection. In order to get at the grain the kings of the New Brunswick forests had broken down a considerable section of what the farmer had regarded as a very reliable fence. If it had been the open season he might have supplied himself with meat enough to last him through the winter, but the open season there doesn't begin until Sept. 15. The farmer said that the moose and deer, too, were unusually plentiful this summer. He had seen baby moose, earlier in the season, playing in his fields and he had also observed the mother moose trying to make friends with the cattle. The cattle, however, did not reciprocate and kept away from that end of the pasture nearest the woods.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Public Works Dept. Head Appreciates Local Organization's Co-operation

The Lowell chamber of commerce has the distinction of being the first organization of its kind in Massachusetts to offer its co-operation to the state department of public works in a plan to keep state highways open during next winter's snowstorms.

Such was the information given William N. Goodell, president of the chamber, by John N. Cole, chairman of the public works department, at a conference in the latter's office yesterday. Mr. Cole expressed his appreciation of the local organization's public-spiritedness in coming forward to assist.

The plan of the state authorities, as far as outlined to date, is to provide apparatus to keep roads clear in all parts of the state and then to arrange with individuals to furnish motor power to propel snowplows. At the state house a list of people who are willing to assist in the work will be kept on file so that at any time there is a big storm, immediate opening up of the roads may be effected.

The local chamber of commerce has got in touch with Nashua, Concord and Manchester in New Hampshire; Boston, Winchester and other cities and towns in Massachusetts, asking them to co-operate in keeping roads between Lowell and those places open during the winter months.

A more definite program will be outlined by the state authorities after Labor day and will be forwarded to the officials of the chamber of commerce as soon as available.

BelFAST, Sept. 2.—Snipers fired into a dense crowd shortly before 11 o'clock last night, near the Crumlin road junction, and for a time panic reigned in that section of the city. One civilian was fatally injured during the shooting and, although soldiers were rushed at once to the scene and pursued the man who did the shooting he made his escape.

During a small riot in Dover street, where hostile crowds gathered during the late evening, one man was seriously wounded.

At 11 o'clock the hour at which the curfew ordinance is effective, the streets were almost deserted. Yesterday several were injured by snipers in the northern part of the city, North street being the center of the most disorder. There were no pitched battles similar to those fought on Monday and Tuesday, but feeling was bitter between the contending factions, and at times only the intervention of police or soldiers averted serious conflicts. Many dwellings and stores were looted during the day, and rumors of new attacks made by the respective factions kept the city in a state of excitement. Several of those wounded during intervals of firing were onlookers who, unfamiliar with the winding streets, found themselves in the line of fire.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Thomas J. Gillick and Miss Ellen A. Farrell were married late yesterday afternoon at the Sacred Heart rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M. I., pastor. The bride was a sister of the bridegroom, Miss Mary E. Farrell, while the best man was Mr. Richard E. Preston. After a honeymoon trip to New York, Springfield, Brockton, Detroit and Philadelphia the couple will make their home at 29 Lyons street.

Osterman-Cliff. The marriage of Mr. Edwin W. Osterman of Tewksbury and Miss Hazel Pearl Cliff of Dracut was performed last evening at the home of the bride by Rev. Ernest C. Bartlett, former pastor of the Dracut Center Congregational church, assisted by Rev. P. E. Nordgren, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church. The bride was Miss Doris Fox, while the best man was a brother of the groom, Mr. Albert Osterman. After an extended honeymoon trip the couple will make their home on the Billerica road in West Tewksbury.

Neyman-Brosky. Mr. Julius Hills Neyman, of this

HOW OLD DO YOU LOOK?

Old age is altogether a matter of years. People of seventy or eighty often look twenty years younger. On the other hand it is not unusual to see a man or woman of thirty who has the appearance of a person of fifty. If you would retain your vigor, strength and ambition keep your blood and nerves in good condition. Anemia or thin blood lowers the vitality, starves the tissues and causes a general run-down condition. When the blood is thin the skin loses its color, the shoulders droop, weight is lost and lines crease the face. These are the outward changes wrought by the disease. The victim of anemia loses appetite, suffers from indigestion, headaches, sleeplessness, nervousness and exhaustion after slight effort.

Do not delay. If you have any or all of these symptoms begin treatment now with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a non-alcoholic tonic guaranteed to be free from any habit-forming or dangerous drugs. You will be surprised to note the improvement in your condition after a few weeks. Almost the first effect of the treatment will be an improved appetite. As the blood becomes enriched the color returns to the cheeks and elasticity to the step. Headaches, nervousness, sleeplessness and weakness soon disappear.

Get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at your druggist's today or write to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Hallowell, Me., enclosing sixty cents and a box will be sent you. Postpaid. A little book, "Building Up the Blood," which explains the treatment, will be sent free on request.

city, and Miss Susan Ruth Brodsky, of Everett, were married August 27 at Rochester and present at the festivities were guests from Boston, Dorchester, Lowell and Newark, N. J. At the close of the ceremony a wedding supper was served and later general dancing was enjoyed. Later in the evening the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to New York, Philadelphia, Washington and Atlantic City.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents

IL F. KEITHS THEATRE. A show without a dull line or moment in it is the attraction that is packing Keiths' theatre, at every performance, this week. No one can act every part different from every other one and a pleasing commingling of music, comedy and novelty—these are the strong points about the bill. The Gypsy Song and the kind and limited song of a brilliant kind, and Herschel Hendler, in "Pinocchio" keeps his audience alternating between whistling and laughing. Tracey & McBride are pleasing comedy acts and Susan Tompkins is an admirable violinist. The Lorimer Hudson company are most daring acrobats, and Chase and LaTour present a snappy comedy called "The Stocking." Then there are the whirlwind dancers, Billy and Laura Dreyer. And to cap the climax, the analysis of speed pictures of "Babe" Ruth and other members of the Yankees keep everybody on edge.

THE STRAND. Women are alike the world over! Even the women of the Kila Kila huns! They start all the trouble on the island when trouble starts. But here, instead of arguing with them or trying to convince them that the way of gossip is not the way of a lady, they are simply killed off by the wholesale. One slandering story and away goes their head. And every that is not enough! After their heads are taken off the whole tribe celebrates the occasion in a savage ball dance. Such is the story told by the two leading stars, William Allen and the two dancing motion picture stars who were shipwrecked on the coast of a man-eating cannibal island. The information comes first handed. "Shipwrecked Among Cannibals" will be shown at The Strand for the first time today, gives a most vivid picture of what these two men found and a small idea of the dangers encountered. Words fail in attempting to impress one with the unusual happenings witnessed by the two men. To know what a cannibal country does one must see this film. It is not only entertaining in the extreme, but educational as well. Don't miss it. Shirley Mason, the dancing star in "The Little Wanderer" is the other attraction on this big bill, and it's another one of those snappy offerings that has everything in it. In a successful film offering, "The Bill" has a comedy and a work, as well as excellent musical numbers.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE. Avery Hopwood's successful play, "This Woman—This Man," serves as the basis for Dorothy Dalton's latest production, "Guilty of Love," now being shown at the Merrimack Square theatre. The story deals with an unfortunate marriage and the dramatic chain of events that finally bring about reconciliation between the husband and wife. Edward Langford is Miss Dalton's leading man. The other big feature for the week-end is Harry Carey, in "A Gun Fightin' Gentleman," an action and intensely interesting story of the west. The International News, a Rainbow comedy and a Burton Holmes travel picture round out the program.

OPERA HOUSE. The new leading man with the Lowell Players, who are to open their season's engagement at the Opera House next week, is Oliver Morosini, a successful actor-war comedy drama, "Civilian Clothes," comes to Lowell with an enviable reputation in stock circles. He comes here from the west, after filling several notable engagements in San Francisco and Los Angeles. He is a most versatile actor, and his successes have included several comedy offerings as well as highly dramatic creations. There is no question but what he will win favor with the patrons at once. Miss Margaret Phillips' return for another season is welcome news and Miss Friedella Knowles' appearance, together with Jack Bennett's engagement for the coming fall and winter months, will be glad news to all. Henry Gurvey, the new juvenile man should share richly in the many good things that are sure to be said of the entire company. Tickets go on sale today.

OWL THEATRE. The new leading man with the Lowell Players, who are to open their season's engagement at the Owl Theatre this afternoon, for the last three days of the week, "The Gun Fightin' Gentleman," an action and intensely interesting story of the west. The International News, a Rainbow comedy and a Burton Holmes travel picture round out the program.

ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE TO SUPPLY ENORMOUS DEMAND FOR TANLAC

Although Huge Laboratories Turn Out 36,000 Bottles Daily, Thousands of Dealers Cannot Be Supplied

BIG DRUG FIRMS BUY IT BY THE CARLOAD

Orders for the Celebrated Medicine Received During June Total 1,621,000 Bottles—Factory Still Weeks Behind With Shipments

Although the big Tanlac laboratories at Dayton, Ohio, and Walkerville, Canada, have been running at top speed for months, it has been a physical impossibility to supply the phenomenal and ever increasing demand for this celebrated medicine.

Tanlac sales last year reached the astonishing total of 4,079,948 bottles, breaking all world's records for the sale of proprietary medicines up to that time. This record now pales into insignificance, however, as orders received during the first seven months of this year reached a total of 4,355,650 bottles. In other words, during the first seven months of 1920, over a quarter of a million more bottles of Tanlac were sold than during the entire year of 1919, and this demand in the face of the fact that Tanlac sales last year were considered absolutely phenomenal.

To say that Tanlac now has the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world expresses it mildly. It does not begin to tell the story—for no other preparation has ever even approached the marvelous record that is now being made by Tanlac; and it is now conservatively estimated that the sales for the present year alone will amount to from seven to ten million bottles.

Orders for Tanlac during the month of June totaled 1,621,000 bottles, but owing to car shortage and transportation difficulties, it was not possible to ship the entire quantity and thousands of dealers scattered throughout Canada and the United States have been unable to obtain the medicine for weeks.

"Phenomenal and Baffling" is the way one of the big orax jobbers of the country describes the marvelous demand for Tanlac.

"We know that the day of miracles has passed, and we all know that there are no unfathomable mysteries in the drug business, but this Tanlac proposition smacks of both," writes another leading wholesale druggist, whose firm has sold over 34 carloads, or an average of nearly one carload per month since they began handling Tanlac a few years ago. Thousands of similar letters and telegrams have been received, but for lack of space they can only be referred to briefly.

Most proprietary medicines are sold by the dozen or by the gross; a very few are sold by the carload, and then only to the largest jobbers, covering extensive territories. The fact, therefore, that scores of jobbers in Canada and the United States have a demand sufficient to justify them in ordering not one carload, but from two Tanlac is composed of the most beneficial roots and herbs known to the scientific world. The formula conforms with all National and State Pure Food and Health Laws of both the United States and Canada, and although Tanlac's claims for superiority are abundantly supported by leading authorities, it is the people themselves who have made Tanlac what it is. Millions upon millions have used it and have told other millions what it has done for them.

That is why Tanlac has become the real sensation of the drug trade all over America.

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Greens Drug Store, Merrimack Square, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 2.—Many anthracite miners continued on "vacation" today as a protest against the award of the anthracite coal commission. Meanwhile the scale committee representing operators and workers met in joint conference here to accept the award after six months of negotiation, investigation and arbitration.

The scale committee of the miners agreed at Hazleton yesterday to accept the award under protest, and to make new demands. The award gives wage increases ranging from 17 to 25 7-8 per cent. The miners asked for 27 per cent.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—An advance of two points in the preferred shares of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis road at the opening of today's stock market pointed to a continuance of the recent broad buying movement in speculative rails. Other rails were fractionally higher, but several stocks, equipments and oils, but trading in other quarters of the list was more contracted than in any recent period.

Rails assumed a more commanding position during the morning, the demand embracing growers, coals and cotton carriers. Attention centered on two points, New York, Chicago & St. Louis 2nd pfd., and Delaware & Hudson 3d. Southern Railway pfd., Minneapolis and St. Louis, New Orleans, Texas and Mexico and Norfolk & Southern gained 1 to 2. The stronger utilities were represented by Oils, Motors, sugar and Textiles were substantially higher but the demand for steel and equipments, aside from a 1/2 point rise in Clevel., was less. The light railroads closed at 8 percent and exchange on London shaded under yesterday's final quotation.

Recent leaders such as Republic, Vanadium, Bethlehem, Steel and Steel were more active at midday, gaining 1 to 2 points. Settlement was favorably influenced by the decline of call money to 7 per cent. Bulls were prominent but yielded none of their advance.

Selling for profits reduced gains in rails and steels later. This was partly offset by buying of copper, oil, sugar, hogs and utilities. The closing was irregular.

IN THE POLICE COURT GOV. COX BEGINS TOUR OF 22 STATES TONIGHT

Main Charged With Assaulting Child, Held for Trial—Other Cases

When the case of Fortia Tatisios, the Fletcher, street shoe shine parlor proprietor, charged with felonious assault upon a five year old girl, was called on in continuance in police court this morning and re-continued until September 16 for trial, Lieut. Petrie and Inspector Conroy, the prosecuting officers, asked for a larger bond than $1000. When the case was called last week before Judge Pickman the government, represented by Deputy Downey, suggested that Tatisios be ordered under $2000 bonds at least, but the court decided upon $1000. Believing that the offense is of a very serious nature, Lieut. Petrie doubted that the defendant could be got when he was wanted if the bail was placed at only $1000. He spoke of the attacks made upon Tatisios at his shoe shine parlor and of the fact that the defendant's property was now attached and said that he thought the $1000 insufficient. The court, however, ordered continuance under the original bond.

Assault and Battery
An argument and a quarrel in a lunch cart in Gorham st. on the night of Aug. 23 resulted in a finding of guilty of assault and battery against Frank Fitzpatrick and a fine of $20 in police court this morning. A drunken complaint against Fitzpatrick was placed on file. George Brown, proprietor of a confectionery store at the corner of Winter and Gorham streets, was the complainant in the assault and battery case.
Laura White, charged with being lewd in behavior, pleaded not guilty and was held under $500 bonds for trial on September 8. The government was not ready for trial.

Other Offenses
Mary Ignatowicz was found guilty of assault upon Polak Mackey, a little boy and was fined $5.
Armand Richotte, a soldier of the base hospital at Camp Devens, was found guilty of non-support of his wife, and illegal cohabitation and was ordered under $500 bonds in each case for his appearance for sentence on September 3.

The cases of James Batho, charged with larceny, and Alexander Perkins, a junk dealer of Lincoln street, charged with receiving the stolen property were put over until Sept. 16.
Thomas Egan pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was ordered to the state farm at Bridgewater.
Peter Grenier pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was given a sentence of two months in the house of correction, suspended for six months.
Three other minor cases were continued until later dates.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 2.—Governor Cox worked at top speed today to clear up accumulated state business before starting on his swing through the west this evening. His trip will take him into 22 states before he returns to Dayton Oct. 4. His itinerary calls for 61 extended addresses, an average of two daily, not including newspaper and other minor speeches.

Between 8000 and 9000 miles will be traversed by the governor, mostly by railroad on regular trains, but with several special trains and automobile side trips planned. The governor will have a private car, the Federal, used in the past by President Wilson and former President Taft and at least two other cars for his party, including newspaper correspondents, stenographers, publicity assistants and others.

The governor will speak Friday at Jackson and Lansing, Mich. On Saturday, he will speak at Milwaukee. He will spend Sunday at Chicago and Monday in Minneapolis and St. Paul.

On the western swing, he will visit in order the principal cities in North Dakota, Montana, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, Nevada, California, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa, Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri, closing his trip Oct. 3 at St. Louis.

While Governor Cox is west Franklin D. Roosevelt will be speaking in the east. They plan to confer at Dayton, Oct. 4 or 5 before Mr. Roosevelt makes another western trip. The governor will spend October in the middle west, east and some of the southern states. Both candidates are to close their campaigns in their home states on Saturday, Oct. 20.

Governor Cox during the last month of campaigning, made 31 addresses in Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and New York, traveling nearly 4000 miles, including about 500 by automobile.

"MILLION VOTE SMILE"

And Roosevelt Can't Keep And Roosevelt Can't Help Nature

This smile that's been spreading sunshine all across the continent, belongs to Franklin D. Roosevelt. The "chauffeur" of his special train says it's worth a million votes, but Roosevelt doesn't wear it for that. He's so full of boyish good nature that he just can't help smiling.

ROOSEVELT FINDS NICK-NAMES ON 'EM ALL
Franklin D. Roosevelt has spent his spare moments on his western tour amusing himself by "framing up jokes" on members of his party. He dubbed his stenographer, J. S. Sullivan, "Smiles" Sullivan, and the name has stuck. He called his closest friend, T. M. Lynch, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Thomas "Milk" Lynch, because of his fondness for malted milk shakes. But he got his best line when he called his secretary, R. F. Canaher, a good natured roly poly boy, "Bump," explaining that a bump is self propelled and full of gas.

BY LORRY JACOBS
N.E.A. Staff Correspondent

WITH ROOSEVELT ON TOUR, San Francisco, Sept. 2.—There are smiles that make you happy.
There are smiles that make you glad.
And, believe me, there are smiles that get votes.

Witness that of Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic nominee for vice president.

I became acquainted with that smile back in the middle west when I joined the Roosevelt party on the tour of the west. I watched it. I saw it growing in effect on the people of the west who love a smile and love to smile themselves. And I began to try to find a name for that smile.

At first I thought it was a reincarnation of T. M.'s famous smile. But it isn't. It's a smile that comes straight from the heart of a big clean minded, and open hearted boy, joyous in the enthusiasm of carrying a fight to the people—not waiting for it to come to him.

Finally in California when the train was nearing San Francisco I found the name for it.

The train bearing Roosevelt's special car had been delayed six hours at one of the hottest places in Oregon. The dining car was out of provisions and only about half the people were fed. And nearly everyone on the train was peevish. We finally arrived at the ferry which was to carry the train across the bay. Nearly everyone got out. Roosevelt did, and there was immediately a clamor for him to say a few words. He did, and he wound up with his joke about "Hiram Johnson not having a Chinaman's chance to be nominated." And then he smiled. He hadn't appeared to get very far until then, but the minute that smile broke, the skies seemed to clear and from there on the spirits of those on the train were in much better condition than they were before.

"Do you know," said the engineer of the train who had listened to him and watched, having been eager all along the line to catch a glimpse of the candidate he was carrying, "that lad's got a million vote smile and mine's going to be one of them."

And there you are. That railroad engineer described better than anyone else possibly could Roosevelt's "million vote smile."

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. John W. Bell and Miss Eleanor C. Wells were married last yesterday afternoon at St. Patrick's rectory, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Joseph A. Curtin. The bride wore white georgette crepe with tulle hat to match and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Ethel Richardson, who was attired in pink georgette crepe with tulle hat to match and carried pink roses. The best man was a brother of the groom, Mr. George P. Bell. Little Miss Madeline Bryant and little Miss Viola Richardson, nieces of the bride, acted as flower girls. They wore golden silk voile with hats to match. The bride's gift to the groom was a pink sapphire ring, while the groom's favor to the best man was a gold coin. After the ceremony the happy couple repaired to the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Louis Lander, 31 Branch street, where a wedding supper was served, followed by a brief reception. Mr. and Mrs. Bell were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts. They left on the 9:16 o'clock train on a brief honeymoon trip to Nova Scotia and upon their return will make their home at 141 Fletcher street.
